

Title III – Criminal Code

Criminal Code of the Three Affiliated Tribes of the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation

This Act is called the Three Affiliated Tribes Criminal Code of the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation. It was implemented beginning on July 1, 2025.

LEGISLATIVE HISTORY

Resolution # 25-172-FWF

3-1 Rules of Criminal Procedure

3-1-1 Scope

Except as otherwise provided by the Three Affiliated Tribes Tribal Code and section 3-1-37, these rules govern the practice and procedure in all criminal proceedings in the Tribal courts of the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation (or “Reservation”).

3-1-2 Purpose and Construction

These rules are intended to provide for the just determination of every criminal proceeding. They shall be construed to secure simplicity in procedure, fairness in administration, and the elimination of unjustifiable expense and delay.

3-1-3 Titles

These rules shall be known as the Three Affiliated Tribes Rules of Criminal Procedure and may be cited as T.A.T.R. Crim.P.

3-1-4 Complaint

3-1-4.1 General

All criminal prosecutions for violation of Tribal law shall be initiated by a complaint. The complaint is a written statement of the essential facts constituting the offense charged.

a Contents:

- (i) The name of the jurisdiction where it is filed;
- (ii) The names of the person(s) complained of, if the defendant(s) name is known, and if not, then such name(s) as may be given by the complainant;
- (iii) A written statement of the complainant describing in ordinary language the nature of the offense committed, including the time, and place as near as may be ascertained; and
- (iv) The section of the Tribal Code allegedly violated.

b Filing: The completed complaint must be filed by the Tribal prosecutor with the clerk of court who shall mark thereon the date and time of filing.

c Amendment: The judge may permit a complaint to be amended at any time before a finding or verdict if no additional or different offense is charged and if substantial rights of the defendant are not prejudiced.

3-1-5 Arrest Warrant or Summons Upon Complaint

3-1-5.1 Written Warrant

If it appears to the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge from the complaint, and from any affidavit filed with the complaint that there is probable cause to believe a criminal offense has been committed by the defendant, a warrant for the arrest of the defendant upon the complaint may be issued directing any authorized law enforcement officer to execute it. The finding of probable cause must be based upon evidence, which may be hearsay in whole or in part, provided there is a substantial basis for believing the source of the hearsay to be credible and for believing that there is a factual basis for the information furnished. The Tribal court judge or magistrate judge shall deny the issuance of a warrant if he finds that there is not probable cause to believe that the offense charged has been committed by the named accused.

3-1-5.2 Telephonic Warrant

The Tribal court judge or magistrate judge may consider information communicated by telephone or other reliable electronic means when reviewing a complaint or deciding whether to issue a warrant or summons. If the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge decides to proceed under this rule, the following procedures apply:

- a The Tribal court judge or magistrate judge must place the applicant under oath and may examine the applicant and any person on whose testimony the application is based.
- b If the applicant does no more than attest to the contents of a written declaration submitted by reliable electronic means, the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge must acknowledge the attestation in writing on declaration. If the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge considers additional testimony or exhibits, the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge must:
 - (i) Ensure the testimony is recorded verbatim by electronic recording device, by court reporter or recorder, or in writing;
 - (ii) Ensure any recording or notes are filed, transcribed on request, and any transcription is certified as accurate;
 - (iii) Sign any other written record and ensure it is certified as accurate and filed; and
 - (iv) Ensure the exhibits are filed.
- c The applicant must prepare a proposed duplicate original of a complaint, warrant, or summons, and must read or otherwise transmit its contents verbatim to the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge.
- d If the applicant reads the contents of the proposed duplicate original, the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge must enter those contents into an original complaint, warrant, or summons. If the applicant transmits the contents by reliable electronic means, the transmission received by the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge may serve as the original.
- e The Tribal court judge or magistrate judge may modify the complaint, warrant, or summons. The Tribal court judge or magistrate judge must then:
 - (i) Transmit the modified version to the applicant by reliable electronic means; or
 - (ii) File the modified version and direct the applicant to modify the proposed duplicate original accordingly.
- f To issue the warrant or summons, the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge must:
 - (i) Sign the original documents;
 - (ii) Enter the date and time of issuance on the warrant or summons; and
 - (iii) Transmit the warrant or summons by reliable electronic means to the applicant or direct the applicant to sign the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge's name and enter date and time on the duplicate original.
- g Absent a finding of bad faith, evidence obtained from a warrant issued under this rule is not subject to suppression on the grounds that issuing the warrant in this manner was unreasonable under the circumstances.

3-1-5.3 Summons

A summons may be issued in lieu of a warrant if the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge has reason to believe that the named accused will appear in response to it.

- a Failure of Defendant to Appear After Summons - If a defendant who has been duly summoned fails to appear, or if there is reasonable cause to believe that he will fail to appear, a warrant of arrest shall be issued.

3-1-5.4 Form

- a Warrant – The warrant shall be in writing, in the name of the Three Affiliated Tribes of the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation and shall be signed by the issuing Tribal court judge or magistrate judge. It shall state:
 - (i) The defendant’s name or, if unknown, a name or description by which the defendant can be identified with reasonable certainty and address, if known, of the accused who is to be arrested;
 - (ii) The date and place of issuance;
 - (iii) The description of the offense charged;
 - (iv) A command that the defendant be arrested and brought before the nearest available Tribal court judge or magistrate judge;
 - (v) The name and title of the issuing judicial officer with a legible signature; and
 - (vi) It may also have endorsed upon it the amount of bail recommended or accepted.
- b Summons – The summons shall be in the same form as the warrant except that it shall summon the defendant to appear before the person issuing it, or another person therein designated at a stated time and place and shall inform the defendant that if he fails to appear, a warrant for his arrest shall be issued.

3-1-5.5 Execution of Service

- a Execution of Warrant – The warrant shall be directed to law enforcement officers of the Three Affiliated Tribes, and any authorized law enforcement jurisdiction which has been granted such authority by the Tribal Business Council or outside the Reservation to any law enforcement officer and shall be executed only by a law enforcement officer. It shall be executed by the arrest of the defendant and may be executed any place upon the Reservation by a law enforcement officer authorized to act within the Reservation and elsewhere by any law enforcement officer authorized to act in the place of arrest. The officer need not have the warrant in his possession at the time of arrest, but if he has the warrant or a copy thereof at the time, he shall show it to the defendant immediately upon request. If the officer does not have the warrant or a copy thereof in his possession at the time of arrest, he shall inform the defendant of the offense charged and of the fact that a warrant has been issued, and upon request he shall show the warrant or a copy thereof to the defendant as soon as possible.
- b Service of Summons – The summons shall be served as follows:
 - (i) By leaving a copy personally with the defendant, or
 - (ii) Mailing a copy of the same to the defendant at his known address at least fourteen (14) days prior to the stated date of his appearance, or
 - (iii) By leaving a copy, with a member of his household who is over the age of eighteen (18) years, at his place of residence.
 - (iv) The summons may be served by any person over the age of eighteen (18) years.
- c Return – The person executing the warrant or summons shall make a return thereof to the designated Tribal court judge or magistrate judge before whom the defendant is brought or ordered to appear. An unexecuted warrant or summons shall be returned to the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge who may either cancel the same or receive it.

No person arrested under a warrant or appearing in response to a summons shall be discharged from custody or dismissed because of any informality in the warrant or summons, and the warrant or summons may be amended so as to remedy the informality.

3-1-6 Arrest

3-1-6.1 General

Arrest is the taking of a person into custody in order that he may be held to answer for a criminal offense; and the taking of a person into custody in response to a citation for contempt to be held to answer to the court for the same.

3-1-6.2 Authorized Arrest

No person shall be arrested upon the Reservation except by a law enforcement officer authorized to make arrests therein and then only when:

- a The officer shall have a warrant signed by a Tribal court judge or magistrate judge or an authenticated copy of a warrant signed by a judge of a Court of the State of North Dakota or of the United States, which has been presented to the Fort Berthold Tribal Court for recognition and a Tribal court judge or magistrate judge thereafter does issue a command for the arrest of such person, or the officer knows for a certainty that such warrant has been issued;
- b The offense shall have occurred in the presence of the arresting officer; or
- c The officer shall have probable cause based upon reliable information that the person to be arrested has committed an offense; or
- d Pursuant to the provisions of Chapter 24, Domestic Violence and Covered Crimes, subsection 3-24-17.1, Mandatory Arrest.

3-1-7 Notification of Rights at Time of Arrest

3-1-7.1 Advice of Rights

Immediately upon arrest, or as soon thereafter as practice, the arrested person shall be advised of the following rights:

- a That he has the right to remain silent.
- b That any statements made by him may be used against him in court.
- c That he has the right to obtain counsel at his own expense. That if he does not wish to obtain counsel at his own expense, he may obtain the services of the public defender at no expense to himself.
- d If he begins to answer questions or make statements, he may choose to stop the same at any time.

3-1-8 Initial Appearance Before the Tribal Court Judge or Magistrate Judge

3-1-8.1 General

An officer making an arrest shall take the arrested person without unnecessary delay before the nearest available Tribal court judge or magistrate judge. If a person arrested without a warrant is brought before the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge, a complaint shall be filed as soon as reasonably possible. A copy of the complaint shall be given within a reasonable time to the arrested person and to any Tribal court judge or magistrate judge before whom he is brought.

3-1-8.2 Statement by Tribal Court Judge or Magistrate Judge at the Initial Appearance

In all cases, the person arrested shall be informed of:

- a The charge against him and of any accompanying affidavit;
- b His right to remain silent;
- c That any statement made by him may be later used against him;
- d His right to advice of counsel before making any statement or answering any questions;

- e His right to obtain the services of the public defender should he choose not to hire counsel;
- f His right to be represented by his counsel at every stage of the proceedings;
- g His right to be admitted to bail pursuant to the provisions of section 3-1-9;
- h His right to a jury trial upon demand if he faces a penalty of incarceration; and
- i His right to appear and defend in person or by counsel.

The Tribal court judge or magistrate judge shall then set bail in accordance with the provisions of section 3-1-9.

3-1-9 Release from Custody

3-1-9.1 Release Prior to Trial

Any person charged with an offense shall, at his initial appearance before a Tribal court judge or magistrate judge, be ordered released pending trial in his personal recognizance or upon the execution of an unsecured appearance bond, unless the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge determines, in the exercise of this discretion, that release will not reasonably assure the appearance of the defendant as required. In that event the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge may:

- a Release him to the custody of a designated person or organization agreeing to assure the accused's appearance.
- b Release him upon reasonable restrictions on his travel, association, or place of residence during the period of release.
- c Release him upon the deposit of himself or others of bond, either cash or collateral, in an amount specified by the Tribal court judge, magistrate judge or a bail schedule. The Tribal court judge or magistrate judge, in his discretion, may require that the accused post only a portion of the total bond, the full sum to become due if the accused fails to appear as ordered.
- d Release him upon any other condition deemed reasonably necessary to assure the appearance of the accused as required.
- e A person may be held and not released if the person is under the influence of drugs or alcohol and the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge finds the person may be a danger to himself or others if released.
- f In determining which conditions of release will reasonably assure appearance, the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge, on the basis of available information, shall take into account the nature and circumstance of the offense charged, the weight of the evidence against the accused, the accused's family ties, employment, financial resources, character and mental condition, the length of his residence in the community, his record of convictions, and his record of appearance at court proceedings or of flight to avoid prosecution or failure to appear voluntarily at court proceedings.

3-1-9.2 Conditions Upon Release

The conditions imposed upon release shall be entered upon an appropriate order and the defendant shall be informed of the fact that a warrant for his arrest will be issued immediately upon any violation of the same.

3-1-9.3 Review by Court if Detention Continues

A person for whom conditions of release are imposed and who after 48 hours from the time of initial appearance continues to be detained as a result of his inability to meet the conditions of release, shall be entitled, upon request, to have the conditions reviewed by a Tribal court judge or magistrate judge.

3-1-9.4 Amendment of Release Conditions

A Tribal court judge or magistrate judge ordering the release of a person on any conditions specified in this section may at any time amend his order to impose additional or different conditions of release.

3-1-9.5 Disposition by Forfeiture of Collateral Security

This section shall not be construed to prevent the disposition of any case or class of cases by forfeiture of collateral security where that disposition is authorized by the court.

3-1-9.6 Release During Trial

A person released before trial shall continue on release during trial under the same terms and conditions as were previously imposed unless the court determines that other terms or conditions or termination of release are necessary to assure his presence during trial or to assure that his conduct will not obstruct the orderly and expeditious progress of the trial.

3-1-9.7 Release Pending Appeal

Application for release after judgment of conviction shall be made in the first instance in the trial court. If the trial court refuses to release pending appeal, or imposes conditions of release, the court shall state in writing the reasons for such action taken. Thereafter, if an appeal is pending, a motion for release, or for modification of the conditions of release, pending review may be made to the MHA Supreme Court or one of the justices thereof. The motion shall be determined promptly upon such papers, affidavits, and portions of the record as the parties shall present and after reasonable notice to the appellee. The MHA Supreme Court or a justice thereof may order the release of the appellant pending disposition of the motion.

3-1-9.8 Forfeiture of Bail

- a Declaration – If there is a breach of condition of a bond, before the court shall declare a forfeiture of the bail, the defendant must be afforded an opportunity to respond to the revocation request.
- b The court may direct that a forfeiture be set aside if it appears that justice does not require the enforcement of the forfeiture.
- c Enforcement – If a forfeiture has not been set aside, the court shall enter a judgment of default and execution may issue thereon. By entering into a bond, the obligors submit to the jurisdiction of the Tribal court and irrevocably appoint the clerk of Tribal court as their agent upon whom any papers affecting their liability may be served. Their liability may be enforced without the necessity of an independent action after service of notice by mail at the obligor's last-known address.

3-1-9.9 Exoneration

Exoneration of bail is the termination of the obligation of bail pending final disposition of the case. Exoneration of bail occurs under the following circumstances:

- a The defendant is found mentally incompetent to stand trial; or
- b The case is dismissed; or
- c The defendant is acquitted after a trial; or
- d The defendant is found guilty after a trial; and
- e If the defendant is the depositor of the bail and is adjudged guilty of the offense, if the judgment of the court includes a fine, the bail may be applied toward payment of the fine.

- 3-1-9.10 Supervision of Detention
The court shall supervise the detention of the defendant pending trial, for the purpose of preventing all unnecessary detention.
- 3-1-9.11 Release on Bail by Law Enforcement Officer
Any law enforcement officer authorized to do so by the court may admit an arrested person to bail pursuant to the bail schedule or release upon personal recognizance. Police shall have available a bail schedule prepared by the court which shall be used for setting bond where such conditions of release are authorized but the court. Any police officer who refuses to release an accused on bail shall bring such accused before a Tribal court judge or magistrate judge for review at the first available opportunity without unnecessary delay.
- 3-1-10 Joinder of Offenses and Defendants
- 3-1-10.1 Joinder of Offenses
Two or more offenses may be charged in the same complaint with a separate count for each offense if the offenses charged are of the same or similar character or are based upon the same act or transaction or on two or more acts or transactions connected or constituting parts of the common scheme or plan.
- 3-1-10.2 Joinder of Defendants
Two or more defendants may be charged in the same complaint if they are alleged to have participated in the same act or transaction or in the same series or acts or transactions constituting one or more offenses. Such defendants may be charged in one or more counts together or separately and all the defendants need not be charged in each count.
- 3-1-11 Arraignment
- 3-1-11.1 General
The arraignment is bringing of an accused before the court, informing him of his rights and of the charge against him, receiving his plea, and setting bail as appropriate in accordance with section 3-1-9.
- 3-1-11.2 Where and How Held
The arraignment shall be held in open court without unnecessary delay after the accused is taken into custody or after the initial appearance if appropriate, and in no instance shall the arraignment be later than the next regularly scheduled session of court in cases where the defendant has not met the conditions of release ordered pursuant to section 3-1-9.
- 3-1-11.3 Rights of Accused
At the arraignment, the accused shall be informed of:
- a Those rights as set out in subsection 3-1-8.2;
 - b The rights to enter a plea of guilty or not guilty to the charge against him; and
 - c Before an accused is required to plead to any criminal charge, the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge shall:
 - (i) Read the complaint to the accused and determine that he understands the same and the section of the Tribal Code which he is charged with violating, including the maximum authorized penalty; and
 - (ii) Advise the accused that the arraignment will be postponed should he desire to consult with counsel.
 - d The accused may waive reading of the complaint.

3-1-11.4 Receipt of Plea at Arraignment

- a If the defendant refuses to plead, the court shall enter a plea of not guilty. When a defendant has entered a plea of not guilty or when the court has entered a plea of not guilty for him, the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge shall then inform him of a pre-trial date or preliminary hearing date in the event of a felony charge and set conditions of bail prior to trial.
- b If the accused pleads “guilty” to the charge, the judge or magistrate judge shall not accept the plea without first determining that:
 - (i) The defendant understands that by entering a plea of guilty, he waives his right to further trial of any kind, his right to confront his accuser, his right to remain silent and his rights against self-incrimination;
 - (ii) That the plea is voluntarily made and is not the result of threats, promise, or coercion;
 - (iii) Whether the plea is a result of plea discussions made between the prosecuting attorney and the defendant or his attorney; and
 - (iv) That a basis in fact exists for the acceptance of the plea.

3-1-11.5 Plea Agreement Procedure

- a The prosecuting attorney and the attorney for the defendant may engage in discussions with a view toward reaching an agreement that, upon the entering of a plea of guilty to a charged offense or to a lesser or related offense, the prosecuting attorney will move for dismissal of other charges or will recommend or not oppose the imposition of a particular sentence or will do both. The court shall not participate in any such discussions.
- b If a plea agreement has been reached by the parties which contemplates entry of a plea of guilty in the expectation that a specific sentence will be imposed or that other charges before the court will be dismissed, the parties shall disclose the same to the court in open court at the time that the plea is offered. Thereupon the court may accept or reject the agreement.
- c If the court accepts the plea agreement, it shall inform the defendant that it may integrate into the judgment and sentence the disposition called for in the plea agreement or another disposition which may be more favorable to the defendant than that provided for in the plea agreement.
- d If the court rejects the plea agreement, it shall inform the parties of this fact, and afford the defendant the opportunity to withdraw his plea, advise the defendant that if he persists in his guilty plea, the disposition of the case may be less favorable to the defendant than that contemplated by the plea agreement.
- e If a plea discussion does not result in a plea of guilty, or if a plea of guilty is not accepted or withdrawn, or if judgment on a plea of guilty is reversed on review, neither the plea discussion nor any resulting plea, agreement, or reversed judgment shall be admissible in any subsequent proceeding of this charge whether criminal, civil, or administrative.

3-1-11.6 Judgment after Acceptance of Plea

If the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge accepts the guilty plea of the defendant, he may thereupon impose sentence and enter judgment or he may defer sentencing for a reasonable time to obtain any information he deems necessary for the imposition of a just sentence. In every case, the defendant shall be afforded an opportunity to inform the court of facts in mitigation of the sentence and to address the court personally by way of allocution.

If the charge of the complaint is for an offense listed in Chapter 3-24, Domestic Violence and Covered Crimes, before final disposition in the case, the court must make certain compliance with the victim rights as listed in subsection 3-24-21.1 have been provided to the victim.

3-1-11.7 Guilty Plea by Defendant Only

In no case shall a plea of guilty be put in by anyone except the defendant himself in open court.

3-1-12 Withdrawal of Plea

3-1-12.1 Discretion to Withdraw Plea

The court may, in its discretion, allow a defendant to withdraw a plea and enter a different plea whenever it appears that the interest of justice and fairness would be served by doing so.

3-1-13 Pleadings and Before Trial

3-1-13.1 Pleadings

Pleadings in criminal proceedings shall be the complaint and the plea of not guilty, nolo contendere (no contest), or guilty.

3-1-13.2 Motion for Lack of Jurisdiction

A motion that the court lacks jurisdiction may be made at any time while the case is pending.

3-1-13.3 Pretrial Motions

The following defenses, objections, and requests must be raised by pretrial motion if the basis for the motion is then readily available, and the motion can be determined without a trial on the merits:

- a A defect in the institution of the prosecution, including:
 - (i) Improper venue;
 - (ii) Charging delay;
 - (iii) A violation of the right to speedy trial;
 - (iv) Selective or vindictive prosecution; or
 - (v) An error in the preliminary hearing, for felony charges.
- b A defect in the complaint, including:
 - (i) Joining two or more offenses in the same count (duplicity);
 - (ii) Charging the same offense in more than one count (multiplicity);
 - (iii) Lack of specificity;
 - (iv) Improper joinder; and
 - (v) Failure to state an offense.
- c Suppression of evidence.
- d Severance of charges or defendants under section 3-1-14.
- e Discovery under section 3-1-17.

3-1-13.4 Notice of Intention to Use Evidence

At the arraignment or as soon afterward as practicable:

- a The Tribal prosecutor may notify the defendant of its intent to use specified evidence at trial in order to afford the defendant an opportunity to object before the trial pursuant to subsection 3-1-13.3(c).
- b The defendant may have an opportunity to move to suppress evidence under subsection 3-1-13.3(c), request notice of the prosecution's intent to use in its evidence-in-chief at trial, any evidence that the defendant may be entitled to discover under section 3-1-17.

3-1-13.5 Notice of Alibi Defense

A defendant who intends to offer an alibi defense must serve written notice on the prosecuting attorney of any intended alibi defense and file the notice within the time provided for the making of pretrial motions or afterwards as the court directs. The notice must state:

- a Each specific place where the defendant claims to have been at the time of the alleged offense; and the name, address, and telephone number, if any, of each witness on whom the defendant intends to rely.
- b If the defendant serves notice pursuant to this section, the prosecuting attorney must disclose in writing to the defendant or the defendant's attorney:
 - (i) The name, address, and telephone number, if any, of each witness the prosecution intends to rely on to establish defendant's presence at the scene of the alleged offense; and
 - (ii) Each prosecution rebuttal witness to the defendant's alibi defense.
- c Unless the court directs otherwise, the prosecuting attorney must give its subsection 3-1-13.5(b) disclosure within fourteen (14) days after the defendant serves notice of an intended alibi defense under subsection 3-1-13.5(a), but not later than fourteen (14) days before trial.
- d Both the defendant and the prosecuting attorney must promptly disclose in writing to the other party the name, address, and telephone number, if any, of each additional witness if:
 - (i) The disclosing party learns of the witness before or during the trial; and
 - (ii) The witness should have been disclosed under subsections 3-1-13.5(a) or (b) if the disclosing party had known of the witness earlier.
- e For good cause, the court may grant an exception to any requirement of subsection 3-1-13.5(a)-(d).
- f If a party fails to comply with this rule, the court may exclude the testimony of any undisclosed witness regarding the defendant's alibi. This rule does not prohibit the defendant's right to testify.
- g Evidence of an intention to rely on an alibi defense, later withdrawn, or of a statement made in connection with that intention, is not, in any civil or criminal proceeding, admissible against the person who gave notice of the intention.

3-1-13.6 Notice of Lack of Criminal Responsibility by Reason of Mental Disease or Defect Defense

A defendant who intends to assert a defense of lack of criminal responsibility by reason of mental disease or defect at the time of the alleged offense must so notify the prosecuting attorney in writing and file notice within the time provided for filing a pretrial motion or at any later time the court sets. A defendant who fails to do so cannot later rely on the defense of lack of criminal responsibility. The court may, for good cause, allow the defendant to file the notice late, grant the parties additional trial-preparation time, or make other appropriate orders.

- a If a defendant intends to introduce expert evidence relating to a mental disease or defect or any other mental condition of the defendant bearing on the issue of whether the defendant had the mental state required for the offense charged, the defendant must, within the time provided for filing pretrial motion or at any later time the court sets, notify the prosecuting attorney in writing of this intention and file the notice. The court may, for good cause, allow the defendant to file the notice late, grant the parties additional trial-preparation time, or make other appropriate orders.
- b In an appropriate case the court may, upon motion of the prosecuting attorney, order the defendant to submit to an examination by one or more mental health professionals retained by the Tribal government through the prosecuting attorney.

No statement made by a defendant in the course of any examination conducted under this rule (whether conducted with or without the defendant's consent), no testimony based on the statement, and no other fruits of the statement may be admitted in evidence against the accused in any criminal, civil, or administrative proceeding except on an issue regarding mental condition on which the defendant has introduced evidence.

- c If the defendant fails to give notice under subsection 3-1-13.6(a) or does not submit to an examination when ordered under subsection 3-1-13.6(b), the court may exclude any expert evidence from the defendant on the issue of the defendant's mental disease, mental defect, or any other mental condition bearing on the defendant's guilt.
- d Evidence of an intention of which notice was given under subsections 3-1-13.6(a) or (b), which is later withdrawn, is not, in any civil, criminal, or administrative proceeding, admissible against the person who gave notice of the intention.

3-1-13.7 Motion Date

The court may, at the arraignment or as soon afterward as practicable, set a deadline for the parties to make pretrial motions and may also schedule a motion hearing. At any time before the trial, the court may extend the deadline for pretrial motions. If the court does not set one, the deadline is the start of the trial.

3-1-13.8 Ruling on Motion

A motion before trial shall be determined before trial unless the court finds good cause to defer a ruling. The court must not defer ruling on a pretrial motion if the deferral will adversely affect a party's right to appeal. When factual issues are involved in determining a motion, the court shall state its finding on the record.

3-1-13.9 Effect of Failure to Raise Defense or Objections

A failure to make the motions requested to be made prior to trial shall constitute a waiver thereof unless the court for good cause shown grants relief from such waiver.

3-1-13.10 Records

All proceedings at the hearing, including the finds of fact and conclusions of law made orally, shall be recorded verbatim.

3-1-13.11 Effect of Determination

If the court grants a motion based on a defect in instituting the prosecution or in the complaint, it may order that the defendant be held in custody or that his bail be continued for a specified time pending the filing of a new complaint.

3-1-14 Trial Joinder

3-1-14.1 Joinder of Complaints

The court may order two or more complaints to be tried together if the offenses and the defendants, if there are more than one, could have been joined in a single complaint. The procedure shall be the same as if the prosecution were under a single complaint. The court's order is discretionary.

3-1-14.2 Separate Trials for Defendants

If prejudice would result to the defendants or the prosecution, the court may order separate trials.

3-1-15 Relief from Prejudicial Joinder

3-1-15.1 Joinder of Offenses or Defendants

If the joinder of offenses or defendants in a complaint or consolidation for trial appears to prejudice a defendant or prosecution, the court may order separate trial on the counts, sever the defendants' trials, or provide any other relief that justice requires.

3-1-15.2 Inspection of Evidentiary Use of Defendant's Statement

Before ruling on a defendant's motion to sever, the court may order the prosecuting attorney to deliver to the court for in-camera inspection any defendant's statements that the prosecution intends to use as evidence.

3-1-16 Depositions

3-1-16.1 When Taken

At any time after the defendant has appeared, any party may take testimony of any person by deposition including audio-visual depositions, except:

- a The defendant may not be deposed unless the defendant consents and the defendant's lawyer, if the defendant has one, is present or the defendant waives the lawyer's presence.
- b A discovery deposition may be taken after the time set by the court only with leave of court.
- c A deposition to perpetuate testimony may be taken only with leave of court, which must be granted upon motion of any party if it appears that the deponent may be able to give material testimony but may be unable to attend a trial or hearing.
- d Upon a motion of a party or of the deponent and upon a showing that the taking of the deposition does or will unreasonably annoy, embarrass, or oppress, or cause undue burden or expense to, the deponent or a party, the court in which the prosecution is pending may order that the deposition not be taken or continued or may limit the scope and manner of its taking. Upon demand of the objecting party or deponent, the taking of the deposition may be suspended for the time necessary to make the motion.
- e A victim may refuse to participate in a deposition requested by the defendant or the defendant's attorney.

3-1-16.2 Motion to Perpetuate Testimony

If a party is granted leave to take a deposition to perpetuate testimony, the court, upon motion of the party and a showing of probable cause to believe that the deponent would not respond to a subpoena, by order must direct a law enforcement officer to take the deponent into custody and hold the deponent until the taking of the deposition begins but shall not hold longer than six (6) hours and then keep the deponent in custody during the taking of the deposition. If the motion is by the prosecuting attorney, the court, upon further motion by the prosecuting attorney and a showing of probable cause to believe the defendant would not otherwise attend the taking of the deposition, may make the same order for the defendant.

3-1-16.3 Written Notice of Deposition

The party at whose instance the deposition is to be taken shall give all parties reasonable written notice of the name and address of each person to be examined, the time and place for the deposition and the manner of recording. Upon motion of a party or of the deponent, the court may change the time, place, or manner of record.

3-1-16.4 Manner of Deposition

The deposition must be taken in the manner provided in civil actions.

The deposition must be taken at any location agreed upon by the parties or a location designated by the court.

- b The defendant must be present at the taking of a deposition to perpetuate testimony, but if the defendant's counsel is present at the taking:
 - (i) The court may excuse the defendant from being present if the defendant appears before the court and understandingly and voluntarily waives the right to be present.
 - (ii) The taking of the deposition may continue if the defendant, present when it commenced, leaves voluntarily; or
 - (iii) If the deposition's taking is presided over by a judicial officer, the judicial officer may direct that the deposition's taking, or part of the deposition's taking be conducted in the defendant's absence if the judicial officer has justifiably excluded the defendant because of the defendant's disruptive conduct.
- c If the defendant is not present at the commencement of the taking of the deposition to perpetuate testimony and the defendant's absence has not been excused:

So far as otherwise admissible under the rules of evidence, a deposition to perpetuate testimony may be used as substantive evidence at the trial or upon any hearing if the deponent is unavailable as defined in Fed. R. Ev. 804(a). A discovery deposition may then be used if the court determines that the use is fair considering the nature and extent of the total examination at the taking thereof, but it may be offered by the prosecution only if the defendant was present at its taking. If only a part of a deposition is offered in evidence by a party, an adverse party may require the offering of all of it that is relevant to the part offered.

3-1-38.1 Effective Date
These rules will take effect on July 1, 2025. They govern all criminal proceedings thereafter commenced and, so far as practicable, all proceedings then pending.

3-1-38.2 Statutes Superseded
Upon the taking of effect of these rules, all statutes and parts of statutes in conflict herewith and the statutes listed as superseded in the Table of Statutes affected are superseded.

3-2 Provisions for Criminal Practice

3-2-1 Scope

3-2-1.1 Governing Provisions

Except as otherwise provided by this Three Affiliated Tribes' Tribal Code and as provided by section 3-1-37, these provisions govern the practice and procedure in all criminal proceedings in the Tribal courts of the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation. This code shall be known as the Three Affiliated Tribes Criminal Code and cited as T.A.T.C.C.

3-2-2 Purpose and Construction

3-2-2.1 Regulation of Formal Steps

These provisions are intended to regulate the formal steps in an action or other judicial proceeding and include the judicial process for enforcing rights and duties recognized by substantive law and for justly administering redress for infraction of them. They shall be construed to secure simplicity in procedure, fairness in administration, and the elimination of unjustifiable expense and delay.

3-2-3 Provisions and Principles of Construction

3-2-3.1 Definition of Offenses

The general purpose of the provisions governing the definition of offenses are:

- a To forbid and prevent conduct that unjustifiably and inexcusably inflicts or threatens substantial harm to individual or public interests.
- b To subject to public control people whose conduct indicates that they are disposed to commit crimes.
- c To safeguard conduct that is without fault from condemnation as criminal.
- d To give warning of the nature of the conduct declared to constitute an offense; and
- e To differentiate on reasonable grounds between serious and minor offenses.

3-2-3.2 Sentencing and Treatment of Offenders

The general purpose of the provisions governing the sentencing and treatment of offenders are:

- a To prevent the commission of offenses.
- b To promote the correction and rehabilitation of offenders.
- c To safeguard offenders against excessive, disproportionate, or arbitrary punishment.
- d To give fair warning of the nature of the sentences that may be imposed on conviction of an offense.
- e To differentiate among offenders with a view to a just individualization in their treatment.
- f To define, coordinate, and harmonize the powers, duties and functions of the courts and administrative officers and agencies responsible for dealing with offenders.
- g To advance the use of the general accepted scientific methods and knowledge in the sentencing and treatment of offenders.
- h To integrate responsibility for the administration of the correctional system.

3-2-3.3 Fair Import of Terms

The provisions of this code shall be construed according to the fair import of their terms but when language is susceptible of differing constructions it shall be interpreted to further the general purposes stated in this section and the special purpose conferred by this code shall be exercised in accordance with the criteria stated in this code and, insofar as such criteria are not decisive, to further the general purpose so stated in section 3-2-2.

3-2-4 Territorial Applicability

3-2-4.1 Except as otherwise provided in this section, a person may be convicted of an offense under these laws for actions taken within the exterior boundaries of the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation which are committed by his own conduct or the conduct of another for which he is legally accountable if:

- a Either the conduct which is an element of the offense occurs in the Reservation, or the result of such conduct if such an element occurs in the Reservation; or
- b Conduct occurring outside the jurisdiction of the Reservation is sufficient under the law of this code if such conduct constitutes an attempt to commit an offense within the Reservation and the conduct shows a substantial step or an overt act in furtherance of that attempt; or
- c Conduct occurring outside the jurisdiction of the Reservation is sufficient under the laws of this criminal code to constitute a conspiracy to commit an offense within the Reservation if such conduct shows a substantial step or an overt act in furtherance of that conspiracy within the Reservation; or
- d Conduct occurring within the exterior boundaries of the Reservation which establishes complicity in the commission of, or an attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy to commit, an offense in another jurisdiction which also is an offense under this code of the Reservation; or
- e The offense consists of the omission to perform a legal duty imposed by this code of the Reservation with respect to domicile, residence or a relationship to a person, thing, or transaction on the Reservation; or
- f The offense is based on a criminal code of the Reservation which expressly prohibits conduct outside the exterior boundaries of the Reservation, when the conduct bears a reasonable relation to a legitimate interest of the Reservation and actor knows or should know that his conduct is likely to affect that interest.

3-2-4.2 The above subsection 3-2-4.1(a) does not apply when causing a particular result is an element of an offense and the result is caused by conduct occurring outside the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation which would not constitute an offense if the result had occurred there unless the actor purposely or knowingly caused the result within the Reservation.

3-2-4.3 When the offense is homicide, either the death of the victim or the bodily impact causing death constitutes a "result", within the meaning of subsection 3-2-4.1(a) and if the body of a homicide victim is found within the exterior boundaries of the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation, it is presumed that such result occurred within the Reservation.

3-2-4.4 The Fort Berthold Indian Reservation includes the land and water and together with the air space above such land and water with respect to which the Three Affiliated Tribes have legislative jurisdiction.

3-2-5 Offense Defined by Published Statutes

3-2-5.1 No conduct constitutes an offense unless it is a crime or violation under this code or another ordinance of the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation.

3-2-5.2 The provisions of this code are applicable to offenses defined by other ordinances unless this code otherwise provides.

- 3-2-5.3 This section does not affect the power of the Tribal court to punish for contempt or to utilize any sanction authorized by law for the enforcement of an order or a civil judgment or decree.
- 3-2-6 Prior Offenses
- 3-2-6.1 The revised code does not apply to offenses committed prior to its effective date and prosecution for such offenses shall be governed by the prior law, which is continued in effect for that purpose, as if this code were not in force. For the purpose of section 3-2-7, an offense was committed prior to the effective date of this code if any of the elements of the offense occurred prior to the effective date of this code. In any case pending on or after the effective date of this code, involving an offense committed prior to the effective date:
- a Procedural provisions of this code shall govern, as far as they are justly applicable, and their application does not introduce confusion or delay.
 - b Provisions of this code providing a defense or mitigation shall apply, with the consent of the defendant.
 - c The court, with the consent of the defendant, may impose sentence under the previous provision of this code applicable to the offense and the offender.
- 3-2-7 Prior Sentences
- Provisions of this code governing the treatment and the release or discharge of prisoners, probationers and parolees shall apply to persons under sentence for offenses prior to the effective date of this code, except that the minimum or maximum period of their detention or supervision shall in no case be increased.
- 3-2-8 Method of Prosecution When Conduct Constitutes More than One Offense
- 3-2-8.1 When the same conduct of a defendant may establish the commission of more than one offense, the defendant may be prosecuted for each such offense. He may not, however, be convicted of more than one offense if:
- a One offense is included in the other, as defined in subsection 3-2-8.1(d);
 - b One offense consists only of a conspiracy or other form of preparation to commit the other;
 - c Inconsistent findings of fact are required to establish the commission of the offenses;
 - d The offense differs only in that one is defined to prohibit a designated kind of conduct generally and the other to prohibit a specific instance of such conduct; or
 - e The offense is defined as a continuing course of conduct and the defendant's course of conduct was uninterrupted, unless the law provides that specific periods of such conduct constitute a separate offense.
- 3-2-9 Limitation on Separate Trials for Multiple Offenses
- 3-2-9.1 Except as provided in section 3-2-10, a defendant shall not be subject to separate trials for multiple offenses based on the same conduct or arising from the same criminal episode if such offenses are known to the appropriate prosecuting officer at the time of the commencement of the first trial and are within the jurisdiction of the Tribal court.
- 3-2-10 Authority of the Court to Order Separate Trials
- 3-2-10.1 When a defendant is charged with two or more offenses based on the same conduct or arising from the same criminal episode, the court, on application of the prosecutor or attorney of the defendant, may order any such charge to be tried separately, if it is satisfied that justice so requires.

3-2-11 Conviction of Lesser Included Offenses Permitted

3-2-11.1 Upon a request filed by the defendant or prosecutor, the court may instruct the jury that the defendant can be convicted of a lesser included offense of the offense charged in the complaint. An offense is so included when:

- a It shares some, but not all, of the elements of the charged offense.
- b It consists of an attempt or solicitation to commit the offense charged or to commit an offense otherwise included therein.
- c The crimes are of a similar character and based on the same act or common plan; or
- d It differs from the offense charged only in the respect that a less severe injury or risk of injury to the same person, property, or public interest or a lesser kind of culpability suffices to establish its commission.

3-2-12 Charging Offenses Together

3-2-12.1 The prosecutor may charge the lesser included offense together with the greater offense in the complaint, however, only one offense can provide the basis for conviction. The defendant cannot be found guilty of both offenses because the elements of the lesser included offense are part of the greater offense.

3-2-13 Submission of Lesser Included Offense to Jury

3-2-13.1 The court shall not be obligated to charge the jury with respect to a lesser included offense unless there is a rational basis for a verdict acquitting the defendant of the greater offense charged and convicting him of the lesser included offense.

3-2-14 Prosecution Barred by Former Prosecution for the Same Offense

3-2-14.1 When a prosecution is for a violation of the same provision of this code and is based upon the same facts as a former prosecution, it is barred by such former prosecution under the following circumstances:

- a The former prosecution resulted in an acquittal unless such acquittal has been set aside because of an error of law prejudicial to the prosecution. There is an acquittal if the prosecution resulted in a finding of not guilty by the trier of fact or in a determination that there was insufficient evidence to warrant a conviction. A finding of guilty of a lesser included offense is an acquittal of the greater inclusive offense although the conviction is subsequently set aside.
- b The former prosecution was terminated, after the complaint had been filed by a final order or judgment for the defendant, which has not been set aside, reversed, or vacated, and which necessarily required a determination inconsistent with a fact or a legal proposition that must be established for conviction of the offense.
- c The former prosecution was improperly terminated. Except as provided in this subsection there is an improper termination of a prosecution if the termination is for reasons not amounting to an acquittal, and it takes place after the first witness is sworn but before verdict. Termination under any of the following circumstances is not improper:
 - (i) The defendant consents to the termination or waives, by motion to dismiss or otherwise, his right to object to the termination.
 - (ii) The trial court finds that the termination is necessary because:
 - (i) It is physically impossible to proceed with the trial in conformity with the law.
 - (ii) There is a legal defect in the proceedings which would make any judgment entered upon a verdict reversible as a matter of law; or
 - (iii) Prejudicial conduct, in or outside the courtroom, makes it impossible to proceed with the trial without injustice to either the defendant or the Three

- Affiliated Tribes, unless the prejudicial conduct is that of the prosecutor and the court finds that such conduct was done to obtain a mistrial; or
- (iv) The jury is unable to agree upon a verdict; or
- (v) False statements of the juror on voir dire prevent a fair trial.

3-2-15 Prosecution Barred by Former Prosecution for Different Offenses

3-2-15.1 Although a prosecution is for a violation of a different provision of the statute than a former prosecution which is based on different facts, it is barred by such former prosecution under the following circumstances:

- a The former prosecution resulted in an acquittal of defendant in a charged offense as defined in section 3-2-14, and the subsequent prosecution is for:
 - (i) Any offense conduct of which the defendant should have been charged on the first prosecution; or
 - (ii) Any offense conduct for which the defendant should have been tried on the first prosecution under section 3-2-14, unless the court ordered a separate trial of the charges of such offense conduct; or
 - (iii) The same offense conduct, unless the subsequent charged offense requires proof of a fact not required by the other previous charged offense, of which the defendant was formerly convicted or acquitted, and the present offense for which he is subsequently prosecuted and the law defining such offenses is intended to prevent a substantially different harm or evil.
- b The second offense was not consummated when the former trial commenced.
 - (i) The former prosecution was terminated, after the complaint was filed by an acquittal or by a final order or judgment for the defendant which has not been set aside, reversed, or vacated and which acquittal, final order, or judgment necessarily required a determination inconsistent with a fact which must be established for conviction of the second offense.
 - (ii) The former prosecution was terminated as improper as defined in section 3-2-14, and the subsequent prosecution is for an offense for which the defendant could have been charged had the former prosecution not been improperly terminated.

3-2-16 Former Prosecution in Another Jurisdiction

3-2-16.1 When conduct constitutes an offense within the concurrent jurisdiction of the Three Affiliated Tribes and of the United States or other legal entity with jurisdiction, a prosecution in any other jurisdiction is not a bar to a subsequent prosecution on the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation.

3-2-17 Former Prosecution before Court Lacking Jurisdiction or when Fraudulently Procured by the Defendant

3-2-17.1 A prosecution is not a bar within the meaning of sections 3-2-14, 3-2-15, and 3-2-16 under any of the following circumstances:

- a The former prosecution was before a court which lacked jurisdiction over the defendant or the offense.
- b The former prosecution was procured by the defendant without the knowledge of the appropriate prosecuting officer and with the purpose of avoiding the sentence which might otherwise be imposed; or
- c The former prosecution resulted in a judgment of conviction which was held invalid in a subsequent proceeding on a writ of habeas corpus, coram nobis or similar process.

3-2-18 Proof and Presumptions

3-2-18.1 No person may be convicted of an offense unless each element of such offense is proven beyond a reasonable doubt. A person is presumed innocent until proven guilty. The fact that the accused has been arrested, confined, or charged with the offense gives rise to no inference of guilt at the accused's trial.

- 3-2-18.2 In this section 3-2-18, the prosecuting attorney shall not be required to:
- a Negate a defense by allegation in the charging document;
 - b Negate a defense by proof, unless the issue is in the case as a result of evidence sufficient to raise a reasonable doubt on the issue; or
 - c Disprove an affirmative defense unless, and until, there is evidence supporting such defense.
- 3-2-18.3 A ground of defense is affirmative, within the meaning of subsection 3-2-18.2(c) when:
- a It arises under a section of this code which so provides; or
 - b It relates to an offense defined by an ordinance other than this code and such ordinance so provides; or
 - c It involves a matter of excuse or justification peculiarly within the knowledge of the defendant on which he can fairly be required to adduce supporting evidence.
- 3-2-18.4 When the application of this code depends upon the finding of a fact which is not an element of an offense, unless this code otherwise provides:
- a The burden of proving the fact is on the prosecution or defendant, depending on whose interest or contention will be furthered if the finding should be made; and
 - b The fact must be proved to the satisfaction of this court or jury as the case may be.
- 3-2-18.5 When this code establishes a presumption with the respect to any fact which is an element of an offense, it has the following consequences:
- a When there is evidence of the fact which give rise to the presumption, the issue of the existence of the presumed fact must be submitted to the jury, unless the court is satisfied that the evidence as a whole clearly negates the presumed fact; and
 - b When the issue of the existence of the presumed fact is submitted to the jury, the court shall charge that while the presumed fact must, on all the evidence, be proved beyond reasonable doubt, the law declares that the jury may regard the facts giving rise to the presumption as sufficient evidence of the presumed fact.
- 3-2-19 General Definitions
- 3-2-19.1 In this code, unless a different meaning plainly applies:
- a "Act" or "action" means a bodily movement whether voluntary or involuntary.
 - b "Acted", "acts," and "actions" include, where relevant, "omitted to act" and "omissions to act".
 - c "Actor" includes, where relevant, a person guilty of an omission.
 - d "Bodily Injury" means any impairment of physical condition, including physical pain.
 - e "Conduct" means an action or omission and its accompanying state of mind, or where relevant, a series of acts and omissions.

 - h "Person", "her", "his", and "actor" include any man, woman, or child.
 - i "Elements of an offense" means:
 - (i) The forbidden conduct.
 - (ii) The attendant circumstances specified in the definition and grading of the offense.
 - (iii) The required culpability; and

- (iv) Any required result; and the nonexistence of a defense as to which there is evidence sufficient to raise reasonable doubt on the issue.
- j “Involuntary” has the meaning specified in subsection 3-2-20.1(a).
- k “Material element of an offense” means an element that does not relate exclusively to the statute of limitations, jurisdiction, venue, or to another matter similarly unconnected with:
 - (i) The harm or evil, incident to conduct, sought to be prevented by the law defining the offense, or
 - (ii) The existence of a justification or excuse for such conduct.
- l “Purposely” has the meaning specified in subsection 3-2-22.2(a) and equivalent terms such as “with purpose”, “designed”, or “with design” have the same meaning.
- m “Intentionally” or “with intent” means purposely.
- n “Knowingly” has the meaning specified in subsection 3-2-22.2(b) and equivalent terms such as “knowing” or “with knowledge” have the same meaning.
- o “Recklessly” has the meaning specified in subsection 3-2-22.2(c) and equivalent terms such as "recklessness", or "with recklessness" have the same meaning.
- p “Negligently” the meaning specified in subsection 3-2-22.2(d) and equivalent terms such as "negligence" or "with negligence" have the same meaning.
- q “Omission” means a failure to act.
- r “Ordinance” includes this criminal code and other related ordinances of the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation along with amendatory changes hereafter.
- s “Reasonably believes” or “reasonable belief” designates a belief which the actor is not reckless or negligent in holding.

3-2-20 General Principles of Liability Requirement of Voluntary Act; Omission as a Basis of Liability for an Act

- 3-2-20.1 A person is not guilty of an offense unless his liability is based on conduct which includes a voluntary act or the omission to perform an act of which he is physically capable.
- a The following are not voluntary acts within the meaning of this section:
 - (i) A reflex or convulsion.
 - (ii) A bodily movement during unconsciousness or sleep.
 - (iii) Conduct during hypnosis or resulting from hypnotic suggestion.
 - (iv) A bodily movement that otherwise is not a product of the effort or determination of the actor, either conscious or habitual.
 - b Liability for the commission of an offense may not be based on an omission unaccompanied by action unless:
 - (i) The omission is expressly made sufficiently by the law defining the offense; or
 - (ii) A duty to perform the omitted act is otherwise imposed by law.
 - c Possession is an act within the meaning of this section if the possessor knowingly procured or received the thing possessed or was aware of his control thereof for a sufficient period to have been able to terminate his possession.

3-2-21 Absolute Liability

- 3-2-21.1 Notwithstanding any other provisions of existing law and unless a subsequent ordinance otherwise provides:
- a When absolute liability is imposed with respect to any material element of an offense defined by ordinance other than this code and a conviction is based upon such liability, the offense constitutes a violation; and
 - b Although absolute liability is imposed by law with respect to one or more of the material elements of an offense defined by a statute other than this code, the culpable commission of the offense may be charged and proved, in which event negligence with respect to such elements constitutes sufficient culpability and the classification of the offense and the sentence that may be imposed therefore upon conviction are determined by section 3-9-2 and Title 3, Chapter 9 of this code.

3-2-22 General Requirement of Culpability

3-2-22.1 Minimum Requirements

Minimum requirements of culpability must be established. Except as provided in subsection 3-2-23.1, a person is not guilty of an offense unless he acted intentionally, knowingly, recklessly, or negligently, as the law may require, with respect to each material element of the offense.

3-2-22.2 Kinds of Culpability Defined

- a Intentionally - a person acts intentionally with respect to a material element of an offense when:
 - (i) If the element involves the nature of his conduct or a result thereof, it is his conscious object to engage in conduct of that nature or to cause such a result; and
 - (ii) If the element involves the attendant circumstances, he is aware of the existence of such circumstances or he believes or hopes that they exist.
- b Knowingly - a person acts knowingly with respect to a material element of an offense when:
 - (i) If the element involves the nature of his conduct or the attendant circumstances, he is aware that his conduct is of that nature or cause such a result; and
 - (ii) If the element involves the attendant circumstances, he is aware of the existence of such circumstances or he believes or hopes that they exist.
- c Recklessly - a person acts recklessly with respect to a material element of an offense when he consciously disregards a substantial and unjustifiable risk that the material element exists or will result from his conduct. The risk must be of such nature and degree that, considering the nature and purpose of the actor's conduct and the circumstances known to him, its disregard involves a gross deviation from the standard of conduct that a law-abiding person would observe in the actor's omission.
- d Negligently - a person acts negligently with respect to a material element of an offense when he should be aware of a substantial and unjustifiable risk that the material element exists or will result from his conduct. The risk must be of such nature and degree that the actor's failure to perceive it, considering the nature and purpose of his conduct, and the circumstances known to him, involves a gross deviation from the standard of care that a reasonable person would observe in the actor's situation.

3-2-22.3 Culpability Required Unless Otherwise Provided

When culpability sufficient to establish a material element of an offense is not prescribed by law, such element is established if a person acts intentionally, knowingly, or recklessly with respect thereto.

3-2-22.4 Prescribed Culpability Requirement Applied to all Material Elements

When the law defining an offense prescribes the kind of culpability that is sufficient for the commission of an offense, without distinguishing among the material elements thereof, such provision shall apply to all the material elements of the offense, unless a contrary purpose plainly appears.

3-2-22.5 Substitutes for Negligence, Recklessness, and Knowledge

When the law provides that negligence suffices to establish an element of an offense, such element also is established if a person acts purposely, knowingly, or recklessly. When reckless suffices to establish an element, such element also is established if a person acts intentionally.

- 3-2-22.6 Requirement of Intent Satisfied if Intent is Conditional
When a particular intent is an element of an offense, the element is established although such intent is conditional, unless the condition negates the harm or evil sought to be prevented by the law defining the offense.
- 3-2-22.7 Requirement of Knowledge Satisfied by Knowledge of High Probability
When knowledge or existence of a particular fact is an element of an offense, such knowledge is established if a person is aware of a high probability of its existence, unless he actually believes that it does not exist.
- 3-2-22.8 Requirement of Willfulness Satisfied by Acting Knowingly
A requirement that an offense be committed willfully is satisfied if a person acts knowingly with respect to the material elements or the offense, unless a purpose to impose further requirements appears.
- 3-2-22.9 Culpability as to Illegality of Conduct
Neither knowledge nor recklessness or negligence as to whether conduct constitutes an offense or as to the existence, meaning, or application of the law determining the elements of an offense is an element of such offense, unless the definition of the offense or this code so provides.
- 3-2-22.10 Culpability as Determinant of Grade of Offense
When the degree of an offense depends on whether the offense is committed intentionally, knowingly, recklessly, or negligently, its severity shall be the lowest for which the determinative kind of culpability is established with respect to any material element of the offense.
- 3-2-23 Inapplicable Culpability Requirements
- 3-2-23.1 The requirements of culpability prescribed in section 3-2-22 do not apply to:
- a Offenses which constitute violations, unless the requirement involved is included in the definition of the offense or the court determines that its application is consistent with effective enforcement of the law defining the offense; or
 - b Offenses defined by ordinances other than this code, as far as a legislative purpose to impose absolute liability for such offenses with respect to any material element plainly appears.
- 3-2-24 Causal Relationship Between Conduct and Result
- 3-2-24.1 Conduct is the cause of result when:
- a It is an antecedent but for which the result in question would not have occurred; and
 - b The relationship between the conduct and result satisfies any additional casual requirements imposed by this code or by the law defining the offense.
- 3-2-25 Divergence Between Result Designed or Contemplated and Actual Result or Between Probable and Actual Result
- 3-2-25.1 When intentionally or knowingly causing a particular result is an element of an offense, the element is not established if the actual result is not within the purpose of the contemplation of the actor unless:
- a The actual result differs from the designed or contemplated result, as the case may be, only in the respect that a different person or different property is injured or affected or that the injury or harm designed or contemplated would have been more serious or more extensive than that caused; or
 - b The actual result involves the same kind of injury or harm designed or contemplated and is not too remote or accidental in its occurrence to have a just bearing on the actor's liability or on the gravity of his offense.

- 3-2-25.2 When recklessly or negligently causing a particular result is an element of an offense, the element is not established if the actual result is not within the risk of which the actor is aware or, in the case of negligence, of which he should be aware unless:
- a The actual result differs from the probable result only in the respect that a different person or different property is injured or affected or that the probable injury or harm would have been more serious or more extensive than that caused; or
 - b The actual result involves the same kind of injury or harm as the probable result and is not too remote or accidental in its occurrence to have a just bearing on the actor's liability or on the gravity of his offense.

- 3-2-25.3 When causing a particular result is a material element of an offense for which absolute liability is imposed by law, the element is not established unless the actual result is a probable consequence of the actor's conduct.

3-2-26 Liability for Conduct of Another; Complicity

- 3-2-26.1 A person is guilty of an offense if it is committed by his own conduct or by the conduct of another person for which he is legally accountable, or both. A person is legally accountable for conduct of another person when:
- a Acting with the kind of culpability that is sufficient for the commission of the offense, he causes an innocent or irresponsible person to engage in such conduct; or
 - b He is made accountable for the conduct of such other person by this code or by the law defining the offense; or
 - c He is an accomplice of such other person in the commission of the offense. A person is an accomplice of such other person in the commission of an offense if:
 - (i) With the purpose of promoting or facilitating the commission of the offense, he:
 - (i) Solicits such other person to commit it; or
 - (ii) Aids or agrees or attempts to aid such other person in planning or committing it; or
 - (iii) Having a legal duty to prevent the commission of the offense, fails to make proper effort to do so; or,
 - (iv) His conduct is expressly declared by law to establish his complicity.
 - d When causing a particular result is an element of an offense, an accomplice in the conduct causing such result is an accomplice in the commission of that offense, if he acts with the kind of culpability, if any, with respect to the result that is sufficient for the commission of the offense.
 - e A person who is legally incapable of committing a particular offense himself may be guilty thereof if it is committed by the conduct of another person for which he is legally accountable, unless such liability is inconsistent with the purpose of the provision establishing his incapacity.
 - f Unless otherwise provided by this code or by the law defining the offense, a person is not an accomplice in an offense committed by another person if:
 - (i) He is a victim of that offense; or
 - (ii) The offense is so defined that his conduct is inevitably incident to its commission; or
 - (iii) He terminates his complicity prior to the commission of the offense and
 - (i) Wholly deprives it of its effectiveness in the commission of the offense; or
 - (ii) Gives timely warning to the law enforcement authorities or otherwise makes proper effort to prevent the commission of the offense.
 - g An accomplice may be convicted on proof of the commission of the offense and of his complicity therein, though the person accused to have committed the offense has not been prosecuted or convicted or has been convicted of a different degree of offense or has an immunity to prosecution of conviction or has been acquitted.

3-3 Criminal Extradition Procedure

- 3-3-1 The TAT Extradition Official, appointed by the Chairman of the Judicial Committee, shall have the authority to have apprehended and delivered up to the executive authority of any Indian tribe, state, or the United States, any person charged with or convicted of a felony, who has fled from justice and is found within the exterior boundaries of the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation.
- 3-3-2 A formal demand for extradition must be made in writing by the demanding sovereign alleging that the individual was present within the jurisdiction of the demanding sovereign at the time of the commission of the alleged crime and that, thereafter, he fled from the jurisdiction of the sovereign. Accompanying the formal demand shall be a copy of any warrant outstanding against the individual, a copy of any judgment of conviction or any sentence imposed in execution thereof, or a statement by an appropriate agent of the demanding sovereign that the individual has escaped from confinement or has violated the terms or conditions of his bail, probation, or parole. Additionally, the TAT Extradition Official shall receive a copy of any indictment, a copy of any information or complaint supported by an affidavit, or a copy of an affidavit made before a magistrate judge or judge in said jurisdiction. The indictment, information, complaint, or affidavit made before a magistrate judge or judge must charge the individual whose extradition is demanded with having committed a felony under the laws of that sovereign. The copy of the indictment, information, complaint, affidavit, judgment of conviction, or sentence shall be authenticated by an appropriate agent of the demanding sovereign.
- 3-3-3 If the TAT Extradition Official determines that the demand should be complied with, he shall cause a Tribal court judge or magistrate judge to sign a warrant for apprehension which shall be directed to the TAT law enforcement office for execution. The warrant shall authorize any TAT law enforcement officer to apprehend the individual at any time and any place where he may be found within the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation, and to command the aid of all TAT law enforcement officers in the execution of the warrant.
- 3-3-4 No individual apprehended under such warrant shall be delivered directly over to an agent of the demanding sovereign. He shall first be taken forthwith before a Tribal court judge or magistrate judge who shall inform him of the demand made for his extradition, the felony with which he has been charged or of which he has been convicted, and his right to demand and secure legal counsel, and his right to a full hearing to challenge the proposed extradition.
- 3-3-5 A full hearing shall be held within seventy-two (72) hours after the individual is apprehended to test the validity of the arrest. It will be presumed that the individual arrested desires a full hearing, unless the individual waives such hearing by executing in the presence of a Tribal court judge or magistrate judge a writing which states that he consents to the return to the demanding sovereign without a full hearing on the proposed extradition.
- 3-3-6 If, from the examination of the evidence presented at a hearing before a Tribal court judge or magistrate judge, it appears that the individual held is, in fact, the individual whose extradition is demanded and that he has fled from justice, the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge shall, by an order reciting his determination, commit him to a Tribal detention facility until such time, not exceeding thirty (30) days, for the TAT Extradition Official to notify and surrender him to an agent of the demanding sovereign.

3-3-7 The TAT Extradition Official shall also have the authority to demand the return of an individual charged with a Tribal crime, with escaping from confinement, or with violating the terms or conditions of his bail, probation, or parole within the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation, from the executive authority of any other sovereign authorized to receive such demand.

3-3-8 When the return to the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation of an individual charged with or convicted of a crime within the Reservation is required, a Tribal court judge or magistrate judge shall present to the TAT Extradition Official a written application for the return of such individual. The application shall state the name of the individual, the crime with which he has been charged or of which he has been convicted, the approximate time, place and circumstances of its commission, and the jurisdiction in which he is believed to be, including location of the individual in such jurisdiction, at the time the application is made. The application shall certify that, in the opinion of the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge, the ends of justice require the arrest and return of the individual to the Reservation for trial or other hearing and that the proceeding is not instituted to enforce a private claim.

3-3-9 An individual returned to the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation by means of extradition based on a criminal charge shall not be subject to personal service of process in any civil action arising out of the same circumstances involved in the criminal proceeding, until he has been finally convicted or, if acquitted, until he has had reasonable opportunity to return to the jurisdiction from which he was extradited.

An exception to this section's prohibition on personal service of process in civil action arising out of the same circumstances involved in the criminal proceeding is if the criminal proceeding is brought under Chapter 24, Domestic Violence and Covered Crimes, which allows the issuance of a protection order to the victim of the crime.

3-3-10 Nothing contained in these Three Affiliated Tribes Criminal Code Provisions and Procedures shall be deemed to constitute a waiver by the Three Affiliated Tribes of their right, power, or privilege to try such demanded individual for any crime committed within the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation or of their right, power, or privilege to regain custody of such individual by extradition proceedings for the purpose of trial, sentence, or punishment for any crime committed within the Reservation.

3-4 Statute of Limitations

3-4-1 Statute of Limitations

3-4-1.1 No prosecution shall be maintained under this Three Affiliated Tribes Criminal Code unless the action has been commenced within one (1) year after the commission of the offense for Class 2, 3, and 4 misdemeanors and three (3) years for Class 1 Misdemeanor and five (5) years for Felony offenses.

a There is no limitation on the time in which a prosecution for murder must be commenced. It may be commenced at any time after the death of the victim.

b No statute of limitation shall preclude the prosecution for an offense involving the sexual or physical abuse or assault, or kidnapping, of a child under the age of eighteen (18) years.

3-4-2 Completed Offense

3-4-2.1 An offense is committed when every element defining an offense occurs. For purposes of the statute of limitations clock, time starts to run on the day after the offense is committed.

3-4-2.2 A prosecution is commenced either when a complaint is filed or when a warrant or other process is issued, provided that such warrant or process is executed without unreasonable delay.

3-4-3 Tolling of Limitations

3-4-3.1 A period of limitation does not run:

- a During any time when the accused is continuously absent from the Reservation or has no reasonably ascertainable place of abode or work within the Reservation.
- b During any time when the prosecution against the accused for the same conduct is pending on this Reservation.

3-4-4 Concealed Crime

3-4-4.1 The statute of limitations otherwise applicable to a criminal act is tolled where:

- a The criminal act is concealed; or
- b The victim is under the influence of a person in a position of trust.

3-4-5 Speedy Trial

3-4-5.1 Trial must be commenced within one (1) year after the arraignment. The following actions shall toll the speedy trial clock:

- a The defendant absconds from the jurisdiction of the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation; or
- b The defendant fails to appear for proceedings subsequent to arraignment.

3-5 Bail

3-5-1 Definitions

3-5-1.1 As used in this chapter, unless the context otherwise requires:

- a “Bail Bond Agent” means any person who has obtained a business license from the TAT and registered bond information with the Tribal Employment Rights Office (TERO) which shows appointment by an insurer, by power of attorney, to execute or countersign bail bonds for the insurer in connection with the judicial proceedings and charges and receives money for this service.
- b “Commissioner” means the Tribal Employment Rights Director.
- c “Bail” is to obtain release of a person charged with an offense by ensuring future attendance in Tribal court through security being taken and compelling the accused to remain within the jurisdiction of the Tribal court.
- d “Bail Bond” is a written undertaking, executed by the defendant or one or more sureties, that the defendant will render himself amenable to the processes of the Tribal court, and that in the event he fails to do so, the signers of the bond will pay to the court the amount of money specified in the order fixing bail.

3-5-2 License Required

3-5-2.1 No individual, individual, partnership, corporation, or limited liability company may engage in the provision of any bail bond without –

- a Obtaining a business license to conduct business on the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation from the Three Affiliated Tribes; and
- b Submitting proof, as part of the TERO licensing process, of appointment by an insurer, by power of attorney, to execute or countersign bail bonds for the insurer in connection with judicial proceedings and charged offenses; and
- c Submitting proof of authority to receive money for such an insurer for the extension of bail bond services.
- d No license is required of a private person who may post bail for a relative or friend of the person subject to such bail restriction.

- 3-5-3 Persons Disqualified as Bail Bond Agents
- 3-5-3.1 The following persons or classes may not be bail bond agents and may not directly or indirectly receive any benefits from the execution of any bail bond: jailers, police officers, magistrate judges, court judges, and court personnel of the Three Affiliated Tribes Tribal Court, sheriffs, deputy sheriffs, or any person having the power to arrest, or having anything to do with the control of tribal, federal, or state prisoners.
- 3-5-4 Bail
- 3-5-4.1 Any person charged with a criminal offense may be eligible for bail by the Three Affiliated Tribes Tribal Court, at any time prior to final judgment or pending appeal to the MHA Supreme Court, in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. If bail is not met, the defendant shall be confined pending the outcome of the criminal proceedings.
- 3-5-5 Bail Hearing
- 3-5-5.1 A bail hearing must be held by a Tribal court judge or magistrate judge when a person is charged with a Class 1 Misdemeanor or Felony offense. All Class 2, 3, and 4 Misdemeanor offenses will be set through a Tribal bonding schedule which will be set by the Chief Judge and Chief of Police with review and approval authority by the Tribe's Judicial Committee. The Tribal bonding schedule shall be reviewed annually and made available to the public.
- 3-5-6 Taking of Bail
- 3-5-6.1 The taking of bail consists of the acceptance by the Tribal court of sufficient cash in the form of a money order or cashier's check, or surety bond to ensure the appearance of the defendant. Bond may be posted with law enforcement by means of depositing one hundred percent (100%) of the bond in the form of a money order, cashier's check, or using the services of a licensed bonding agent. Law enforcement shall forward such money order, cashier's check, or notice of bond to the Tribal court.
- 3-5-7 Bond Forfeiture and Enforcement
- 3-5-7.1 Bail bond agents shall be notified by the clerk of court, in writing by certified mail, return receipt requested, within five (5) days of the defendant's appearance or failure to appear. The bail bond agent shall then have no more than sixty (60) calendar days to submit one hundred percent (100%) of the established bond schedule amount to the court. However, should the bail bond agent locate and physically bring or cause to be brought to the court the defendant who failed to appear within the sixty (60) day period, the bail bond agent may petition the court for a return of the forfeited bond, but shall be responsible for paying five percent (5%) of the bail amount for court costs. Upon filing, the clerk of court shall enter in the register of actions the date and amount of the bond, and the name or names of the surety thereon for the bond.
- 3-5-7.2 Pursuant to subsection 3-1-9.8 of this code, the court may direct a forfeiture to be set aside if it appears justice does not require the enforcement of the forfeiture:
- a Enforcement - If a forfeiture has not been set aside, the court shall enter a judgment of default and execution may issue thereon.
- 3-5-8 Setting of Bail
- 3-5-8.1 Bail shall be fixed in such amount and in such form as, in the judgment of the Tribal court, will ensure the presence of the defendant in court proceedings of the case. When setting the bail, the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge shall take into consideration:
- a The nature and circumstances of the offense charged.
 - b The character and reputation of the defendant.
 - c The previous criminal record of the defendant.

- d The probability of the defendant appearing at the hearing or trial of the case; and
- e The safety of the victims, tribal members, and general public.

3-5-8.2 In no case shall bail exceed four (4) times the maximum fine for the offense charged.

3-5-9 Release of Defendant

3-5-9.1 Upon the execution of the requisite recognizance or bail bond, the Tribal court shall issue an order for the release of the defendant. Upon the delivery of such an order to a law enforcement officer, the defendant shall be released upon the terms and conditions contained in the court order.

3-5-10 Forfeiture of Bail

3-5-10.1 If the defendant fails to appear in court as lawfully required, the court shall direct an entry of such failure and forfeiture of bail to be made on the record, without further proceedings. The court shall thereafter issue a warrant for the arrest of the defendant.

3-5-11 Return of Bail

3-5-11.1 Any security, given by the surety or the defendant, must be returned within five (5) working days of a dismissal, not guilty verdict, or upon sentencing, unless the sentence is appealed, then upon five (5) working days of the appellate decision.

3-6 Defenses

3-6-1 Definitions

3-6-1.1 In this chapter, unless a different meaning is plainly required:

- a “Deadly Force” means force which the actor uses with the purpose of causing or which he knows to create a substantial risk or causing death or serious bodily harm. Purposely firing a firearm in the direction of another or another person is believed to constitute deadly force. A threat to cause death or serious bodily harm, by the production of a weapon or otherwise, so long as the actor’s purpose is limited to creating an apprehension that he will use deadly force, if necessary, does not constitute deadly force.
- b “Dwelling” means any building or structure, though movable or temporary, or a portion thereof, which is for the time being the actor’s home or place of lodging.
- c “Force” means physical action, threat, or menace against another, and includes confinement.
- d “Intoxication” means a disturbance of mental or physical capacities resulting from the introduction of substances into the body.
- e “Premises” means all or any part of a building or real property, or any structure, vehicle watercraft, or watercraft used for overnight lodging of persons, or used by persons for carrying on business therein.
- f “Self- induced intoxication” means intoxication caused by substances which the actor knowingly introduces into his body, the tendency of which to cause intoxication he knows or ought to know, unless he introduces them pursuant to medical device or under such circumstance as would afford a defense to a charged crime.
- g “Unlawful Force” means force, including confinement, which is employed without the consent of the person against whom it is directed, and the employment of which constitutes an offense or actionable tort or would constitute such offense except for a defense not mounting to a privilege to use the force. Assent constitutes consent, within the meaning of this code, whether it otherwise is legally effective, except assent to the infliction of death or serious bodily harm.

3-6-2 Excuse or Mistake

3-6-2.1 Excuse

A person's conduct is excused if he believes that the facts are such that his conduct is necessary and appropriate for any of the purposes which would establish a justification or excuse under this code, even though his belief is mistaken. However, if his belief is negligently or recklessly held, it is not an excuse in a prosecution for an offense, for which negligence or recklessness suffices the established culpability. Excuse under this section is a defense or affirmative defense according to which type of defense would be established had the facts been as the person believed them to be.

3-6-2.2 Mistake of Law

Except as otherwise expressly provided, a person's good faith belief that conduct does not constitute a crime is an affirmative defense, if he acted in a reasonable reliance upon a statement of the law contained in:

- a A statute of other enactment.
- b A judicial decision, opinion, order, or judgment.
- c An administrative order or grant of permission.

3-6-2.3 Mistake of Fact

Mistake of fact is a mistaken understanding or belief about a material fact or event that leads to an illegal act. It is a defense to a crime if the mistake, if true, would negate a mental state that is an element of the crime. Mistakes of fact can involve mistakes about a person's identity, characteristics, ownership of property, or existence of an event.

It is no defense to a charge of statutory rape that the defendant was mistaken as to the age of the victim.

3-6-3 Intoxication

3-6-3.1 Except as provided in subsection 3-6-3.4, intoxication of the actor is not a defense unless it negates an element of the offense.

3-6-3.2 When recklessness establishes an element of the offense, if the actor, due to self-induced intoxication, is unaware of a risk of which he would have been aware had he been sober, such unawareness is immaterial.

3-6-3.3 Intoxication does not constitute mental disease within the meaning of section 3-7-1.

3-6-3.4 Intoxication which is not self-induced is an affirmative defense if by reason of such intoxication, the actor at the time of his conduct lacked substantial capacity either to appreciate its criminality (wrongfulness) or to conform his conduct to the requirements of law.

3-6-3.5 Voluntary intoxication is a valid defense only to specific intent crimes.

3-6-4 Duress

3-6-4.1 It is an affirmative defense that the actor engaged in the conduct charged to constitute an offense because he was coerced to do so by the use of, or a threat to use, unlawful force against his person or the person of another, which a person of reasonable belief in his situation would have been unable to resist.

- a The defense provided by this section is unavailable if the actor recklessly placed himself in a situation in which it was probable that he would be subjected to duress.

The defense is also unavailable if he was negligent in placing himself in such a situation, whenever negligence suffices to establish culpability of the offense charged.

- b It is not a defense that the actor acted on the command of a spouse, unless the actor acted under such coercion as would establish a defense under this section.
- c When the conduct of the actor would otherwise be justifiable under section 3-6-9, this subsection does not preclude such defense.

3-6-5 Military Orders

3-6-5.1 It is an affirmative defense that the actor, in engaging in the conduct charged to constitute an offense, did no more than execute an order of his superior in the armed services which he did not reasonably know to be unlawful.

3-6-6 Consent

3-6-6.1 The consent of the victim to conduct which constitutes an offense or to the result thereof, is a defense, if such consent negates an element of the offense or precludes the infliction of the harm or evil sought to be prevented by the law defining the offense.

3-6-6.2 When conduct is charged to constitute an offense because it causes or threatens to cause bodily harm, consent to such conduct or to the infliction of such harm is a defense if:

- a The bodily harm consented to or threatened by the conduct consented to, is not serious;
- b Conduct and harm are reasonably foreseeable hazards of joint participation in a lawful athletic contest or competitive sport, or to any concerted activity of a kind forbidden by law; or
- c The consent establishes a justification for the conduct under subsection 3-6-6.3 of this code.

3-6-6.3 Unless otherwise provided by this code or by the law defining the offense, assent does not constitute consent if:

- a It is given by a person who is legally incompetent to authorize the conduct charged to constitute the offense;
- b It is given by a person who by reason of youth, mental disease or defect or intoxication is manifestly unable or known by the actor to be unable to make a reasonable judgment as to the nature or harmfulness of the conduct charged to constitute the offense; or
- c It is induced by force, duress or deception of a kind sought to be prevented by the law defining the offense.

3-6-7 De Minimis Infractions

3-6-7.1 The court shall dismiss a prosecution if, having regard to the nature of the conduct charged to constitute an offense and the nature of the attendant circumstances, it finds the defendant's conduct:

- a Was within a customary license to tolerate, neither expressly negated by the person whose interest was infringed nor inconsistent with the purpose of the law defining the offense; or
- b Presents such other extenuations that it cannot reasonably be regarded as foreseen by the legislature in forbidding the offense.
- c The court shall not dismiss a prosecution under subsection (b) above without filing a written statement of its reasons.

3-6-8 Entrapment

3-6-8.1 A public law enforcement official or a person acting in cooperation with such an official, perpetuates an entrapment, if for the purpose of obtaining evidence of the commission of an offense, he induces or encourages another person to engage in conduct constituting such offense by either:

- a Making knowingly false representation designed to induce the belief that such conduct is not prohibited; or
- b Employing methods of persuasion or inducement which create a substantial risk that such an offense will be committed by persons other than those who are ready to commit it.

3-6-8.2 Except as provided in subsection 3-6-8.3 of this section, a person prosecuted for an offense shall be acquitted if he proves by a preponderance of evidence that his conduct occurred in response to an entrapment. The defense issue of entrapment shall be tried by the court in the absence of the jury. The defense afforded by this section is unavailable when causing or threatening bodily injury is an element of the offense charged and the prosecution is based on conduct causing or threatening such injury to a person other than the person perpetrating the entrapment.

3-6-8.3 The defense afforded by this section is unavailable when causing or threatening bodily injury is an element of the offense charged and the prosecution is based on conduct causing or threatening such injury to a person other than the person perpetrating the entrapment.

3-6-9 Justification Generally – Choice of Evil

3-6-9.1 Except as otherwise expressly provided, justification or excuse under this chapter is a defense. Conduct which the actor believes to be necessary to avoid a harm or evil to himself or to another is justifiable, provided that:

- a The harm or evil sought to be avoided by such conduct is not greater than that sought to be prevented by the law defining the offense charged.
- b Neither the code nor other law defining the offense provides exceptions or defenses dealing with the specific situation involved; and
- c A legislative purpose to exclude the justification claimed does not otherwise plainly appear.
- d When the actor was reckless or negligent in bringing about the situation requiring a choice of harms or evils or in appraising the necessity for his conduct, the justification afforded by this chapter is unavailable in a prosecution for any offense for which reckless or negligence, as the case may be, suffices to establish culpability.

3-6-10 Justification and Affirmative Defense – Civil Remedies Unaffected

3-6-10.1 In any prosecution based on conduct which is justifiable under this chapter, justification is an affirmative defense.

3-6-10.2 The fact that conduct is justifiable under this chapter does not abolish or impair any remedy for such conduct which is available in any civil action.

3-6-11 Execution of Public Duty

3-6-11.1 Conduct engaged in by a public servant in the course of the person's official duties is justified when it is required or authorized by law, or:

- a The law governing the execution of legal process;
- b The judgment or order of a competent court or tribunal;
- c The law governing the armed services of the lawful conduct of war; or
- d Any other provision of law imposing a public duty.

3-6-11.2 A person who has been directed by a public servant to assist that public servant is justified in using force to carry out the public servant's direction, unless the action directed by the public servant is plainly unlawful.

- 3-6-11.3 An actor is justified in using force upon another to affect that person's arrest or prevent that person's escape when a public servant authorized to make the arrest or prevent the escape is not available if the other person has committed, in the presence of the actor, any crime which the actor is justified in using force to prevent, or if the other person has committed a felony involving force or violence.
- 3-6-11.4 Conduct engaged in by an individual at the direction of a public servant, known by that individual to be a law enforcement officer, to assist in the investigation of a criminal offense is justified unless the individual knows or has a firm belief, unaccompanied by substantial doubt, that the conduct is not within the law enforcement officer's official duties or authority. For purposes of this subsection, conduct "not within the law enforcement officer's official duties or authority" is conduct in which the law enforcement officer could not lawfully engage in that officer's official capacity. When practicable, permission must be obtained from a parent or guardian of a minor who is under the age of eighteen (18) years and is neither married nor in the military service of the United States before the minor may engage in conduct, other than the providing of information, to assist in a criminal investigation under the direct supervision of a public servant.
- 3-6-12 Use of Force in Self-Defense
- 3-6-12.1 Subject to provision of this section, the use of force upon or toward another person is justifiable when the actor believes that such force is immediately necessary for the purpose of protecting himself against the use of unlawful force by such other person in the present encounter.
- 3-6-12.2 The use of force is not justifiable under this section:
- a To resist an arrest, to avoid execution of process, or other performance of duty by a public servant under color of law; or
 - b To resist force used by the occupier or possessor of property or by another person on his behalf where the actor knows that the person using the force is doing so under a claim of right to protect the property, except that this limitation shall not apply if the actor is a public officer acting in the performance of his duties or a person lawfully assisting him therein or a person making or assisting in a lawful arrest.
- 3-6-12.3 To resist force used by the occupier or possessor of property or by another person on his behalf, where the actor knows that the person using the force is doing so under a claim of right to protect the property, except that this limitation shall not apply if the actor is a public officer acting in the performance of his duties or a person lawfully assisting him therein or a person making or assisting in a lawful arrest. The use of deadly force is not justifiable under this section unless the actor believes that such force is necessary to protect himself against death, serious bodily harm, kidnapping, or sexual assault compelled by force or threat; nor is it justifiable if:
- a The actor, with the purpose of causing death or serious bodily harm, provoked the use of force against himself in the same encounter; or
 - b The actor knows that he can avoid the necessity of using such force with complete safety by retreating or by surrendering possession of a thing to a person asserting a claim of right thereto or by complying with demand that he abstain from any action which he has no duty to undertake except that:
 - (i) The actor is not obligated to retreat from his dwelling or place of work unless he was the initial aggressor or is assaulted in his place of work by another person the actor knows to be wrongfully present; or
 - (ii) The actor is a public officer justified in using force in the performance of his duties or a person justified in using force in his assistance or a person justified in using force in making an arrest or preventing such escape because of resistance or threatened resistance by or on behalf of the person against whom such action is directed; or

- (iii) The actor has entered into mutual combat with another person or is the initial aggressor unless he is resisting force which is clearly excessive in the circumstances. A person's use of defensive force after he withdraws from an encounter and indicates to the other person that he has done so is justified if the latter nevertheless continues or menaces unlawful action.

3-6-12.4 The justification afforded by this section extends to the use of confinement as protective force only if the actor takes all reasonable measures to terminate the confinement as soon as he knows that he safely can unless the person confined has been arrested on a charge of crime.

3-6-13 Use of Force for the Protection of Other Persons

3-6-13.1 Subject to the provision of this section and of section 3-6-12, the use of force upon or toward the person of another is justifiable to protect a third person when:

- a The person defended would be justified in defending himself;
- b The actor believes that his intervention is necessary for the protection of such other person; and
- c The person coming to the defense has not, by provocation or otherwise, forfeited the right of self-defense.

3-6-14 Use of Force for the Protection of Property

3-6-14.1 Subject to the provision of this section and section 3-6-2 the use of force upon or toward the person of another is justifiable when the actor believes that such force is immediately necessary:

- a To prevent or terminate an unlawful entry or other trespass upon land or a trespass against or the unlawful carrying away of tangible, moveable property, provided that such land or moveable property is, or is believed by the actor to be, in his possession or in the possession of another person for whose protection he acts; or
- b To affect an entry or re-entry upon land or to retake tangible moveable property, provided that the actor believes that he or the person by whose authority he acts or a person from whom he or such other person derives title was unlawfully dispossessed of such land or movable property and is entitled to possession, and provided, further, that:
 - (i) The force is used immediately or on fresh pursuit after such dispossession; or
 - (ii) The actor believes that the person against whom he uses force has no claim of right to the possession of the property and, in the case of land, the circumstances, as the actor believes that to be, are of such urgency that it would be an exceptional hardship to postpone the entry or re-entry until a court order is obtained.

3-6-14.2 For purposes of subsection 3-6-14.1 of this section:

- a A person who has parted with the custody of the property to another who refuses to restore it to him is no longer in possession, unless the property is moveable and, was and still is, located on the land of the person's possession.
- b A person who has been dispossessed of land does not regain possession thereof merely by setting foot thereon.
- c A person who has a license to use or occupy real property is deemed to be in possession thereof except against the licensor acting under claim or right.

3-6-14.3 Limitation of Justifiable Use of Force

- a The use of force is justifiable under this section only if the actor first requests the person against whom such force is used to desist from his interference with the property, unless the actor believes that:
 - (i) Such request would be useless; or
 - (ii) It would be dangerous to himself or another person to make the request.
- b The use of force to prevent or terminate a trespass is not justifiable under this section if the actor knows that the exclusion of the trespasser will expose him to substantial danger of serious bodily harm.
- c The use of deadly force is not justifiable under this section unless the actor believes that the person against whom the force is used:
 - (i) Is attempting to dispossess him of his dwelling other than under a claim of right to its possession; or
 - (ii) Is attempting to commit or consummate arson; or
 - (iii) Has employed or threatened deadly force against or in the presence of the actor; or
 - (iv) The use of force, other than deadly force, is necessary to prevent the commission or the consummation of a crime which would expose the actor or another in his presence to substantial danger of serious bodily harm.
- d The justification afforded by this section extends to the use of confinement as protective force only if the actor takes all reasonable measures to terminate the confinement as soon as he knows that he can do so safely unless the person confined has been arrested on a charge of a crime.
- e The justification afforded by this section extends to the use of a device for the purposes of protecting property only if:
 - (i) The device is not designed or used in such a manner to cause or known to create a substantial risk of causing death or serious bodily harm; and
 - (ii) The use of the particular device to protect the property from the entry or trespass is reasonable under the circumstances, as the actor believes them to be; and
 - (iii) The device is one customarily used for such a purpose or reasonable care is taken to make known to probable intruders the fact that it is used.
- f The use of force to pass a person whom the actor believes to be purposely or knowingly and unjustifiably obstructing the actor from going to a place to which he may lawfully go is justifiable, provided that:
 - (i) The actor believes that the person against whom he uses force has no claim of right to obstruct the actor;
 - (ii) The actor is not being obstructed from entry or movement on land which he knows to be in the possession or custody of the person obstructing him, or in the possession or custody of another person by whose authority the obstructor acts, unless the circumstances as the actor believes them to be are of such urgency that it would not be reasonable to postpone the entry or movement on such land until a court order is obtained; and
 - (iii) The force used is not greater than would be justifiable if the person obstructing the actor were using force against him to prevent his passage.

3-6-15 Use of Force in Law Enforcement

- 3-6-15.1 The use of force by a law enforcement officer upon or toward the person of another is justifiable when the officer is making or assisting in making a lawful arrest and the officer believes that such force is immediately necessary to effect a lawful arrest.

- 3-6-15.2 The use of force is not justifiable under this section unless:
- a The officer makes known the purpose of the arrest or believes that it is otherwise known by or can reasonably be made known to the person to be arrested; and
 - b When the arrest is made under a warrant, and the warrant is valid or believed by the officer to be valid.
- 3-6-15.3 The use of deadly force is not justifiable under this section unless:
- a The arrest is for a felony; and
 - b The officer effecting the arrest is authorized to act as a law enforcement officer; and
 - c The officer believes that the force employed creates no substantial risk of injury to innocent persons; and
 - d The officer believes that:
 - (i) The crime for which the arrest is made involved conduct including the use or threatened use of deadly force; or
 - (ii) There is substantial risk that the person to be arrested will cause death or serious bodily harm if his apprehension is delayed.
- 3-6-15.4 The use of force to prevent the escape of an arrested person from custody is justifiable when the force could justifiably have been employed to effect the arrest under which the person is in custody, except that a guard or other person authorized to act as a law enforcement officer is justified in using any force, including deadly force, which he believes to be necessary to prevent escape from a facility used for the detention of persons charged with or convicted of a crime.
- 3-6-15.5 The use of force upon or toward the person of another is justifiable when the officer believes that such force is immediately necessary to prevent such other person from committing suicide, or threatening bodily harm, damage to or loss of property or a breach of the peace, except that:
- a Any limitations imposed by the other provisions of this chapter on the justifiable use of force in self-protection of property, the effectuation of an arrest or the prevention of an escape from custody shall apply notwithstanding the criminality of the conduct against which such force is used; and
 - b The use of deadly force is not, in any event, justifiable under this subsection unless:
 - (i) The officer believes that there is a substantial risk that the person who he seeks to prevent from committing a crime will cause death or serious bodily harm to another unless the commission or the consummation of the crime is prevented and that the use of force presents no substantial risk of injury to innocent persons; or
 - (ii) The officer believes that the use of such force is necessary to suppress a riot or mutiny after the rioters or mutineers have been ordered to disperse and warned, in any particular manner that the law may require, that such force will be used if they do not obey.
- 3-6-15.6 The justification afforded by this section extends to the use of confinement as preventive force only if the officer takes all reasonable measures to terminate the confinement as soon as he knows that he safely can unless the person confined has been arrested on a charge of a crime.
- 3-6-16 Use of Force by Persons with Parental, Custodial, or Similar Responsibilities
- 3-6-16.1 The use of reasonable force upon a minor is justified under any of the following circumstances:
- a When the actor being a parent, guardian, or other person responsible for the care and supervision of a minor, or other person responsible for the care and supervision of a minor for a special purpose, or person acting at the direction of any of the foregoing persons, may use reasonable force upon the minor for the purpose of safeguarding or promoting the minor's welfare, including prevention and punishment of the minor's misconduct, and the maintenance of proper discipline.

- b If the person using reasonable force for the prevention and punishment of the minor's misconduct or the maintenance of proper discipline is a paid caregiver, that person must be acting under written direction of the parent or guardian of the minor.
- c The reasonable force used may not create a substantial risk of death, serious bodily injury, disfigurement, extreme pain, mental distress, or gross degradation.
- d A guardian or other person responsible for the care and supervision of an individual who is incompetent, or a person acting at the direction of the guardian or responsible person, may use reasonable force upon the individual for the purpose of safeguarding or promoting the welfare of the individual, including the prevention of the individual's misconduct, or if the individual is in a hospital or other institution for care and custody, for the reasonable discipline in the institution. The force used may not create a substantial risk of death, serious bodily injury, disfigurement, or gross degradation.

3-6-16.2 A person responsible for the maintenance of order in a vehicle, train, vessel, aircraft, or other carrier, or in a place in which others are assembled, or a person acting at the responsible person's direction, may use force to maintain order.

3-6-16.3 A duly licensed physician, or a person acting at a duly licensed physician's direction, may use force to administer a recognized form of treatment to promote the physical or mental health of a patient if the treatment is administered:

- a In an emergency.
- b With the consent of the patient, or, if the patient is a minor or an individual who is incompetent, with the consent of the patient's parent, guardian, or other person entrusted with the patient's care and supervision; or
- c By order of a court of competent jurisdiction.
- d A person may use force upon an individual about to commit suicide or suffer serious bodily injury, to prevent the death or serious bodily injury of that individual.

3-6-17 Justification in Property Crimes

3-6-17.1 Conduct involving the appropriation, seizure, destruction, or damage to, intrusion on or interference with property is justifiable under circumstances which would establish a defense or privilege in a civil action based thereon, unless:

- a This code or law defining the offense deals with the specified situation involved; or
- b A legislative purpose to exclude the justification claimed otherwise plainly appears.

3-7 Criminal Responsibility

3-7-1 Mental Disease or Defect Excluding Responsibility

3-7-1.1 A person is not responsible for criminal conduct if at the time of such conduct as a result of mental disease or defect he lacks substantial capacity either to appreciate the criminality of his conduct or conform his conduct to the requirements of law.

3-7-1.2 As used in this chapter, the terms, "mental disease or defect", do not include an abnormality manifested only by repeated criminal or otherwise anti-social conduct.

3-7-2 Evidence of Mental Disease or Defect Admissible When Relevant to Element of the Offense

3-7-2.1 Evidence that the defendant suffered from a mental disease or defect is admissible whenever it is relevant to prove that the defendant did or did not have a state of mind which is an element of offense.

- 3-7-3 Mental Disease or Defect Excluding Responsibility is Affirmative Defense: Requirement of Notice: Form of Verdict and Judgment When Finding of Irresponsibility is Made
- 3-7-3.1 Mental disease or defect excluding responsibility is an affirmative defense.
- 3-7-3.2 Evidence of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility is not admissible unless the defendant, at the time of entering his plea of guilty or within ten (10) days thereafter or at such time as the court may for good cause permit, files a written notice of the purpose to rely on such defense.
- 3-7-3.3 When the defendant is acquitted on the grounds of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility, the verdict and the judgment shall so state.
- 3-7-4 Mental Disease or Defect Excluding Fitness to Proceed
- 3-7-4.1 No person who, because of mental disease or defect lacks capacity to understand the proceedings against him or to assist in his own defense shall be tried, convicted, or sentenced for the commission of an offense so long as such incapacity endures.
- 3-7-5 Psychiatric Examination of Defendant with Respect to Mental Disease or Defect
- 3-7-5.1 Whenever the defendant has filed a notice of intention to rely on the defense of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility, or there is reason to doubt his fitness to proceed, or reason to believe that mental disease or defect of the defendant will otherwise become an issue in the proceeding?, the court shall appoint at least one qualified psychiatrist to examine and report the mental condition of the defendant. The court may order the defendant to be committed to a hospital or other suitable facility for the purpose of the examination for a period of not exceeding sixty (60) days or such longer period as the court determines to be necessary for the purpose and may direct that a qualified psychiatrist, retained by the defendant, be permitted to witness, and participate in the examination.
- a In such an examination any method may be employed which is accepted by the medical profession for the examination of those alleged to be suffering from mental disease or defect.
 - b The report of the examination shall include the following:
 - (i) A description of the nature of the examination.
 - (ii) A diagnosis of the mental condition of the examination.
 - (iii) If the defendant suffers from a mental disease or defect, psychiatrist shall include an opinion as to the defendant's capacity to understand and assist in his own defense.
 - (iv) When directed by the court, an opinion as to the capacity of the defendant to have state of mind which is an element of the offense charged.
 - c If the examination cannot be conducted by reason of the unwillingness of the defendant to participate therein, the report shall so state and shall include, if possible, an opinion as to where such unwillingness of the defendant was the result of mental disease or defect. The report of the examination shall be filed with the clerk of court who shall cause copies to be delivered to the Tribal prosecutor and to counsel for the defendant.
- 3-7-6 Determination of Fitness to Proceed; Effect of Finding of Unfitness; Proceeding if Fitness is Regained
- 3-7-6.1 When the defendant's fitness to proceed is drawn in question, the issue shall be determined by the court. If neither the prosecuting attorney nor counsel for the defendant contests the finding of the report filed pursuant to section 3-7-5, the court shall hold a hearing on the issue. If the report is received as evidence upon such hearing, the party who contests the finding thereof shall have the right to summon and to cross examine the psychiatrists who drafted the report and to offer evidence upon the issue.

- 3-7-6.2 If the court determines that the defendant lacks fitness to proceed, the proceeding against him shall be suspended except as provided in subsection 3-7-6.3 of this section, and the court shall commit him to the appropriate institution by order for so long as such unfitness shall endure. When the court, on its own motion or upon the application of the tribal prosecutor, determines after a hearing, if a hearing is requested, that the defendant has regained fitness to proceed, the proceeding shall be resumed. If, however, the court is of the view that so much time has elapsed since the commitment of the defendant that it would be unjust to resume the criminal proceeding, the court may dismiss the charge and may order the defendant to be discharged or, subject to the law governing the civil commitment of person suffering from mental disease or defect, order the defendant to be committed to the appropriate institution.
- 3-7-6.3 The fact that the defendant is unfit to proceed does not preclude any legal objection to the prosecution which is susceptible of fair determination prior to trial and without the personal participation of the defendant.
- 3-7-7 Determination of Responsibility on Basis of Report; Access to Defendant by Psychiatrist of His Own Choice
- 3-7-7.1 If the report filed pursuant to section 3-7-5 finds that the defendant, at the time of the criminal conduct charged, suffered from a mental disease or defect which substantially impaired his capacity to appreciate the criminality of his conduct or to conform his conduct to the requirements of law, and the court, after a hearing, if a hearing is requested by the Tribal prosecutor or the defendant's attorney, is satisfied that such impairment was sufficient to exclude responsibility, the court on motion of the defendant's attorney shall enter judgment of acquittal on the ground of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility.
- 3-7-7.2 When, notwithstanding the report filed pursuant to section 3-6-5, the defendant wishes to be examined by a qualified psychiatrist or other expert of the defendant's own choice, such examiner shall be permitted to have reasonable access to the defendant for the purpose of such examination.
- 3-7-8 Form of Expert Testimony When Issue of Responsibility Brought to Trial
- 3-7-8.1 Upon the trial, the psychiatrist who reported pursuant to section 3-6-5 may be called as a witness by the prosecution, the defendant's attorney, or the court. On the issue of defendant's responsibility being tried before a jury, the jury may be informed that the psychiatrist(s) were designated by the court or the superintendent of the hospital at the request of the court, as the case may be. If called by the court, the witness shall be subject to cross-examination by the prosecution and by the defendant's attorney. Both the prosecution and the defendant's attorney may summon any other qualified psychiatrist or other expert to testify, but no one who has not examined the defendant shall be competent to testify to an expert opinion with respect to the mental condition or responsibility of the defendant, as distinguished from the validity of the procedure followed by, or the general scientific proposition stated by, another witness.
- 3-7-8.2 When a psychiatrist or other expert who has examined the defendant testifies concerning defendant's mental condition, the psychiatrist shall be permitted to make a statement as to the nature of the defendant's mental condition, and the psychiatrist's examination, the psychiatrist's diagnosis of the mental condition of the defendant at the time of the criminality of the defendant's conduct, or for the defendant to conform his conduct to the requirements of law, or for the defendant to have a particular state of mind, which is an element of the offense charged, which may or may not have been impaired as a result of mental disease or defect at that time. The psychiatrist shall be permitted to make an explanation reasonably serving to clarify the psychiatrist's diagnosis and opinion and may be cross-examined as to any matter bearing on the psychiatrist's competency, credibility, or the validity of the psychiatrist's diagnosis or opinion.

3-7-9 Legal Effect of Acquittal on the Grounds of Mental Disease or Defect Excluding Responsibility; Commitment; Release or Discharge

3-7-9.1 When a defendant is acquitted on the grounds of mental disease or defect excluding responsibility, the court shall order him to be committed to the custody of the appropriate institution for care and treatment.

3-7-9.2 If the director of the custodial institution is of the view that a defendant committed to his custody, pursuant to subsection 3-7-9.1, may be discharged or released on conditions without danger to himself or to others, the director shall make an application for the discharge or release of the defendant in a report to the court by which the defendant was committed and shall transmit a copy of such application and report to the court and tribal prosecutor. The court shall thereupon appoint at least two qualified psychiatrists to examine the defendant and to report within sixty (60) days, or a such longer period as the court determines to be necessary for the purpose, of their opinion as to the defendant's mental condition.

3-7-9.3 If the court is satisfied by the report filed pursuant to subsection 3-7-9.2 and such testimony of the reporting psychiatrists as the court deems necessary, that the defendant may be discharged or released on conditions without danger to himself or others, the court shall order the defendant's discharge or release on such conditions as the court determines to be necessary. If the court is not so satisfied, it shall promptly order a hearing to determine whether the defendant may safely be discharged or released. According to the determination of the court upon the hearing, the defendant shall thereupon be discharged or released on such conditions as the court determines to be necessary or shall be recommitted to the custody of the director of the custodial institution, subject to discharge or release, only in accordance with the procedure prescribed above in subsection 3-7-8.2.

3-7-9.4 If, within one year or sooner as the situation may require, after the conditional release of the defendant, the court shall determine, after hearing evidence, that the conditions of release have not been fulfilled and that for the safety of others the defendant's conditional release should be revoked, the court shall forthwith order the defendant to be recommitted to the director of the appropriate custodial institution subject to discharge or release only in accordance with the procedure prescribed above in subsection 3-7-8.2.

3-7-9.5 A committed defendant may make an application for discharge or release to the court by which he was committed, and the procedure to be followed upon such application shall be the same as that prescribed above in subsection 3-7-8.2. However, no such application by the defendant need be considered until he has been confined for not less than one month from the date of the order of commitment. If the determination of the court be adverse to the application, the defendant shall not be permitted to file a further application until two (2) months have elapsed from the date of any preceding hearing on an application for the defendant's release or discharge.

3-7-10 Statement for Purpose of Examination or Treatment Inadmissible Except on Issue of Mental Condition

3-7-10.1 Any statement made by the defendant subjected to psychiatric examination or treatment pursuant to sections 3-7-5, 3-7-6, and 3-7-7 for the purposes of such examination or treatment shall not be admissible in evidence against the defendant in any criminal proceeding on any issue other than that of the defendant's mental condition, whether or not it would otherwise be deemed privileged communication.

3-7-11 Immaturity Excluding Criminal Conviction; Transfer of Proceeding to Juvenile Court

3-7-11.1 A person shall not be tried for or convicted of an offense if:

- a At the time of the conduct charged to constitute the offense, he was less than sixteen (16) years of age; or
- b At the time of the conduct charged to constitute the offense, he was sixteen (16) or seventeen (17) years of age unless:
 - (i) The Juvenile Court has no jurisdiction over him; or
 - (ii) The Juvenile Court has entered an order waiving jurisdiction and transferring for the institution of adult criminal proceedings against him.
- c No court shall have jurisdiction to try or convict a person of an offense if criminal proceedings against him are barred by 3-7-11.1(a) or (b) of this section. When it appears that a person charged with the commission of an offense may be of such an age that criminal proceedings may be barred under 3-7-11.1(a) or (b) of this section, the court shall hold a hearing thereon, and the burden shall be on the prosecution to establish to the satisfaction of the court that the criminal proceeding is not barred upon such grounds. If the court determines that the proceeding is barred, custody of the person charged shall be surrendered to the Juvenile Court, and the case, including all papers and processes relating thereto, shall be transferred.

3-8 Inchoate Crimes

3-8-1 Criminal Attempt

3-8-1.1 A person is guilty of an attempt to commit a crime if, acting with the kind of culpability otherwise required for commission of the crime, he intentionally engages in conduct which, in fact, constitutes a substantial step toward commission of the crime.

- a A substantial step under this section is any conduct which is strongly corroborative of the firmness of the actor's intent to complete the commission of the crime.
- b The factual or legal impossibility of committing the crime is not a defense, if the crime could have been committed had the attendant circumstances been as the actor believed them to be.

3-8-1.2 A person who engages in conduct designed to aid another to commit a crime which would establish his complicity under section 3-2-26 if the crime were committed by such other person, is guilty of an attempt to commit the crime, although the crime is not committed or attempted by such other person.

3-8-1.3 Renunciation of Criminal Purpose

- a When the actor's conduct would otherwise constitute an attempt under subsection 3-8-1.1 of this section, it is an affirmative defense that he abandoned his effort to commit the crime or otherwise prevented its commission, under circumstances manifesting a complete and voluntary renunciation of his criminal purpose. The establishment of such a defense does not, however, affect the liability of an accomplice who did not join in such abandonment or prevention.

- b Within the meaning of this chapter, renunciation of criminal purpose is not voluntary if it is motivated, in whole or in part, by circumstances not present or apparent at the inception of the actor's course of conduct, which increase the probability of detection or apprehension or which make more difficult the accomplishment of the criminal purpose. Renunciation is not complete if it is motivated by a decision to postpone the criminal conduct until a more advantageous time or to transfer the criminal effort to another but similar objective or victim.

3-8-2 Criminal Solicitation

3-8-2.1 A person is guilty of criminal solicitation if he commands, induces, encourages, requests, or persuades another person to commit a crime, whether as principal or accomplice, with intent to promote or facilitate the commission of the offense, under circumstances strongly corroborative of that intent, and if the person solicited commits an overt act in response to the solicitation.

3-8-2.2 It is an affirmative defense that the actor, after soliciting another person to commit a crime, persuaded him not to do so or otherwise prevented the commission of the crime, under circumstances manifesting a complete and voluntary renunciation of his criminal purpose.

3-8-3 Criminal Conspiracy

3-8-3.1 A person is guilty of conspiracy if he agrees with one or more persons to engage in or cause conduct which, in fact, constitutes a criminal offense or offenses, and any one or more of such persons does an overt act to affect an objective of the conspiracy. The agreement need not be explicit in the fact of collaboration or existence of other circumstances.

3-8-3.2 If a person guilty of conspiracy, as defined by subsection 3-8-3.1, knows, or could expect that a person with whom he conspires to commit a crime has conspired with another person or persons to commit the same crime, he is guilty of conspiring with such other person or persons, whether or not he knows their identity, to commit such crime.

3-8-3.3 If a person conspires to commit multiple crimes, he is guilty of only one conspiracy so long as such multiple crimes are the object of the same agreement or continuous conspiratorial relationship.

3-8-3.4 A conspiracy shall be deemed to continue until its objectives are accomplished, frustrated, or abandoned. Objectives include escape from the scene of the crime, distribution of booty, and measures, other than silence, to conceal the crime or obstructing justice in relation to the crime. A conspiracy shall be deemed to be abandoned if no overt act to affect its objectives has been committed by any conspirator during the applicable statute of limitations.

3-8-3.5 Joinder and Venue in Conspiracy Prosecutions

- a Subject to the provisions of subsection 3-8-3.5(b) of this subsection, two or more persons charged with criminal conspiracy may be prosecuted jointly if:
 - (i) They are charged with conspiring with one another; or
 - (ii) The conspiracies alleged, whether they have the same or different parties, are so related that they constitute various aspects of a scheme of organized criminal conduct.
- b In any joint prosecution under this subsection:
 - (i) A defendant shall be charged with a conspiracy in the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation if he entered into such conspiracy within the exterior boundaries of the Reservation or an overt act pursuant to such conspiracy was completed or attempted by him or by a person with whom he conspired within the exterior boundaries of the Reservation; and

- (ii) Neither the liability of any defendant nor the admissibility against him of the evidence of acts or declarations of another shall be enlarged by such joinder; and
- (iii) The court shall order a severance or take a special verdict as to any defendant who so requests, if it deems it necessary or appropriate to promote the fair determination of his guilt or innocence and shall take any other proper measures to protect the fairness of the trial.

3-8-3.6 Overt Act

No person may be convicted of conspiracy to commit a crime, other than a misdemeanor, unless an overt act in pursuance of such conspiracy is alleged and proved to have been done by him or by a person with whom he conspired.

3-8-3.7 Renunciation of Criminal Purpose

It is an affirmative defense that the actor, after conspiring to commit a crime, thwarted the success of the conspiracy under circumstances manifesting a complete and voluntary renunciation of his criminal purpose.

3-8-4 Incapacity, Irresponsibility, or Immunity of Party to Solicitation or Conspiracy

3-8-4.1 Except as provided in subsection 3-8-4.2 of this section, it is immaterial to the liability of a person who solicits or conspires with another to commit a crime that:

- a The person whom he solicits or with whom he conspires does not possess a particular characteristic which is an element of such crime, if he believed that one of them does; or
- b The person whom he solicits or with whom he conspires is irresponsible or has immunity from prosecution or conviction for the commission of the crime.

3-8-4.2 It is a defense to a charge of solicitation or conspiracy to commit a crime that if the criminal object were achieved, the actor would not be guilty of a crime under the law defining the offense or as an accomplice under section 3-2-26.

3-8-5 Grading of Criminal Attempt, Solicitation, and Conspiracy; Mitigation in Offense Conduct; Multiple Convictions Barred

3-8-5.1 Grading

Except as otherwise provided in this section, attempt, solicitation, and conspiracy are crimes of the same grade and degree as the most serious offense which is attempted or solicited or an object of the conspiracy, except that, whenever it is established by a preponderance of the evidence at sentencing that the conduct constituting the attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy did not come dangerously close to commission of the crime, the offense level shall be one grade level lower than the attempted crime.

3-8-5.2 Mitigation

If the particular conduct charged to constitute a criminal attempt, solicitation, or conspiracy is so inherently unlikely to result or culminate in the commission of a crime that neither such conduct nor the actor presents a public danger warranting the grading of such offense under this section, the court shall exercise its power under subsection 3-8-5.1 to enter judgment or impose sentence for a crime of lower grade or degree or, in extreme cases, may dismiss the prosecution.

3-8-5.3 Multiple Conviction – A person may not be convicted of more than one offense defined by this chapter for conduct designed to commit or to culminate in the commission of the same crime.

3-9 Offenses, Penalties, and Sentencing

3-9-1 Tribal Law and Order Act Enactment

3-9-1.1 Pursuant to the Tribal Law and Order Act of 2010 and the provisions of 25 U.S.C §1302, the Three Affiliated Tribes does herein enact this enhanced penalty provision, together with any amendments which may be made thereto after the date of enactment.

3-9-2 Classification of Offenses – Penalties

3-9-2.1 The following is the classification of imprisonment and fines which may be imposed by the court for sentencing purposes:

- a Felony, a maximum penalty of three (3) years imprisonment, a maximum fine of five thousand (5,000) dollars, or both. The sentence may not exceed a total sentence of nine (9) years for multiple counts of conviction, a maximum fine of up to fifteen thousand (15,000) dollars or both.
- b Class 1 Misdemeanor, a maximum penalty of one (1) year imprisonment, a maximum fine of two thousand five hundred (2,500) dollars, or both.
- c Class 2 Misdemeanor a maximum penalty of six (6) months imprisonment, a maximum fine of one thousand (1,000) dollars, or both.
- d Class 3 Misdemeanor, a maximum penalty of ninety (90) days imprisonment, a maximum fine of seven hundred fifty (750) dollars, or both.
- e Class 4 Misdemeanor, a maximum penalty of thirty (30) days imprisonment, a maximum fine of five hundred (500) dollars, or both.

3-9-3 Authority of Court in Sentencing

3-9-3.1 The following factors, or the converse thereof where appropriate, while not controlling the discretion of the court, shall be accorded weight in making determinations regarding the desirability of sentencing an offender to imprisonment:

- a The defendant’s criminal conduct caused or threatened serious harm to another person or his property;
- b The defendant did not plan or expect that his criminal conduct would cause or threaten serious harm to another person or his property;
- c The defendant acted under strong provocation;
- d The victim of the defendant’s conduct induced or facilitated its commission;
- e The defendant has made or will make restitution or reparation to the victim of his conduct for the damage or injury which was sustained;
- f The defendant has no history of prior delinquency or criminal activity or has led a law-abiding life for a substantial period of time before the commission of the present offense;
- g The defendant’s conduct was the result of circumstances unlikely to recur;
- h The character, history, and attitudes of the defendant indicate that he is unlikely to commit another crime;
- i The defendant is particularly likely to respond affirmatively to probationary treatment;
- j The imprisonment of the defendant would entail undue hardship to himself or his dependents.
- k The defendant is elderly or in poor health; and
- l The defendant cooperated with law enforcement authorities by bringing other offenders to justice, or otherwise cooperated.

- 3-9-4 Authorized Disposition of Offenders
- 3-9-4.1 All persons convicted of an offense shall be sentenced in accordance with the provisions of this chapter. The court may suspend the imposition of a sentence on a person who has been convicted of a crime, or may order that he be committed to treatment in lieu of sentence, in accordance with section 3-7-1 or may sentence him as follows:
- a To pay a fine authorized by subsection 3-9-2.1;
 - b To be placed on probation;
 - c Imprisonment for a term authorized by subsection 3-9-2.1; or
 - d To any combination of fine, imprisonment, and probation; and
 - e In all cases, regardless of the sentence, where deemed appropriate by the Tribal court judge or magistrate judge, order payment of restitution for damages resulting from the commission of the offense.
- 3-9-4.2 The court may suspend the imposition of a sentence on a person who has been convicted of a violation or may sentence him to pay a fine authorized by subsection 3-9-2.1.
- 3-9-4.3 This section does not deprive the court of any authority conferred by law to decree a forfeiture of property, suspend or cancel a license, or impose any other civil penalty. Such judgment or order may be included in the sentence,
- 3-9-5 Place of Imprisonment
- 3-9-5.1 When a person is sentenced to imprisonment for an indefinite term within a maximum of six (6) months, the court shall commit him to the custody of the appropriate official for the term of his sentence and until released in accordance with law.
- 3-9-5.2 When a person is sentenced to imprisonment for a definite term, the court shall designate the institution or agency to which he is committed for the term of his sentence and until released in accordance with law.
- 3-9-6 Reduction of Conviction by Court to Lesser Degree of Misdemeanor
- 3-9-6.1 If, when a person has been convicted of a misdemeanor, the court, having regard to the nature and circumstances of the crime and to the history and character of the defendant, is of the view that it would be unduly harsh to sentence the offender in accordance with this code, the court may enter a judgment of conviction for a lesser degree of a misdemeanor and impose sentence accordingly.
- 3-9-7 Civil Commitment in Lieu of Prosecution or of Sentence
- 3-9-7.1 When a person, prosecuted for a misdemeanor, is a chronic alcoholic, narcotic addict or person suffering from mental abnormality and the court is authorized by law to order the civil commitment of such person to a hospital or other institution for medical, psychiatric, or other rehabilitative treatment, the court may order such commitment and dismiss the prosecution. The order of commitment may be made after conviction, in which event the court may set aside the verdict or judgment of conviction and dismiss the prosecution.
- 3-9-7.2 The court shall not make an order under subsection 3-9-7.1 of this section unless it is of the view that it will substantially further the rehabilitation of the defendant and will not jeopardize the protection of the public.

3-9-8 Hearing Prior to Restitution or Reparation Order – Conditions

3-9-8.1 Prior to imposing reparation as a sentence or condition of probation, the court shall hold a hearing on the matter with notice to the prosecuting attorney and to the defendant as to the nature and amount thereof. At or following the hearing, the court shall make determination as to:

- a The reasonable damages sustained by the victim or victims of the criminal offense, which damages shall be limited to fruits of the criminal offense and expenses actually incurred as a direct result of the defendant's criminal action;
- b The ability of the defendant to restore the fruits of the criminal action or to pay monetary reparations, or to otherwise take action to restore the victim's property; and
- c The likelihood that attaching a condition relating to restitution or reparation will serve a valid rehabilitation purpose in the case of the offense.

3-9-8.2 The court shall fix the amount of restitution or reparation and shall fix the manner of performance of any condition or conditions of probation established pursuant to this section. Any payments made pursuant to such order shall be deducted from damages awarded in a civil action arising from the same incident. An order that a defendant make restitution or reparation as a sentence or condition of probation may, if the court so directs, be filed, transcribed, and enforced by the person entitled to the restitution or reparation in the same manner which civil judgments rendered by the courts of this jurisdiction may be enforced.

3-9-8.3 The court may order the defendant to perform reasonable assigned work as a condition of probation, which assigned work need not be related to the offense charged but must be solely for the public benefit.

3-9-9 Imposition of Fine and Response of Nonpayment

3-9-9.1 The court in deciding the propriety of imposing a sentence to pay a fine, shall consider the following factors:

- a The ability of the defendant to pay without undue hardship;
- b Whether the defendant, other than a defendant organization, gained money or property because of commission of the offense; or
- c Whether the sentence to pay a fine will serve a valid rehabilitative purpose.
- d Nothing herein shall be deemed to require explicit reference to these factors in a report by the court at the time of sentencing.

3-9-9.2 The court may allow the defendant to pay any fine imposed in installments. When a defendant is sentenced to pay a fine, the court shall not impose at the same time an alternative sentence to be served if the fine is not paid.

3-9-9.3 If the defendant does not pay the fine, or make any required partial payment, the court, upon motion of the prosecuting attorney or on its own motion, may issue an order to show cause why the defendant should not be imprisoned for nonpayment. Unless the defendant shows that his default is excusable, the court may sentence him to the following periods of imprisonment for failure to pay a fine:

- a If the defendant was convicted of a misdemeanor, he should have a period not to exceed (30) thirty days.

3-9-10 Multiple Sentences, Concurrent or Consecutive Terms

3-9-10.1 Multiple Sentences of Imprisonment

When multiple sentences of imprisonment are imposed on a defendant for more than one crime, including a crime for which a previous suspended sentence or sentence of probation has been revoked, such multiple sentences shall run concurrently or consecutively as the court determines at the time of sentence, except that:

- a A definite and indefinite term shall run concurrently and both sentences shall be satisfied by service of the indefinite term; and
- b The aggregate of consecutive indefinite terms shall not exceed in minimum or maximum length the longest extended term authorized for the highest grade and degree of crimes for which the sentence was imposed.

3-9-10.2 Sentences of Imprisonment Imposed at Separate Times

When a defendant who has previously been sentenced to imprisonment is subsequently sentenced to another term for a crime committed prior to the former sentence, other than a crime committed while in custody:

- a The multiple sentences imposed shall, as far as possible, conform to subsection 3-9-10.1 of this section; and

3-13-2 General Provisions and Grading of Theft Offenses

3-13-2.1 Conduct denominated theft in this chapter constitutes a single offense. An accusation of theft may support evidence that it was knowingly committed in any manner that would be theft under this chapter, notwithstanding the specification of a different manner in the charging document, subject only to the power of the court to ensure fair trial by granting a continuance or other appropriate relief where the conduct of the defense would be prejudiced by lack of fair notice or surprise.

- a Theft constitutes a Felony offense if the amount involved exceeds five thousand (5,000) dollars, is taken from the person by threat, in breach of a fiduciary obligation, or if the property stolen is a firearm, automobile, airplane, motorcycle, motorboat, or motor propelled vehicle, or in the case of theft by receiving stolen property, if the receiver is in the business of buying or selling stolen property.
- b Theft not within the preceding subsection 3-13-2.1(a) constitutes a Class 3 Misdemeanor, if the property was not taken from the person by threat, or in breach of fiduciary obligation, and the amount involved was more than fifty (50) dollars but less than five thousand (5,000) dollars.
- c The amount involved in a theft shall be deemed to be the highest value, by any reasonable standard, of the property or services which the actor stole or attempted to steal. Amounts involved in thefts committed pursuant to one scheme or course of conduct, whether from the same person or several persons, may be aggregated in determining the grade of the offense.
- d If it is an affirmative defense to prosecution for theft that the actor reasonably believed:
 - (i) That he was unaware that the property or service was that of another;
 - (ii) That he acted under an honest claim of right to the property or service involved;
 - (iii) That he had a right to acquire or dispose of it as he did;
 - (iv) When he took property exposed for sale, he intended to purchase and pay for it promptly, or;
 - (v) That the owner, if present, would have consented.

- b Prevents another from acquiring information which would affect his judgment or a transaction;
- c Fails to correct a false impression which the deceiver previously created or reinforced, or which the deceiver knows to be influencing another to whom he stands in a fiduciary or confidential relationship; or

3-24-10.2 Attempts to contact or follow the person after being given actual notice that the person does not want to be contacted or followed constitute prima facie evidence that the stalker intends to frighten, intimidate, or harass the person. Contact includes, in addition to any other form of contact or communication, the sending of an electronic communication to the person.

3-24-11.2 It shall be a defense to the crime of stalking that the defendant is a licensed investigator or a law enforcement officer acting within his or her official capacity.

3-24-11.3 If a person claims to have been engaged in a constitutionally protected activity, the court shall determine the validity of the claim as a matter of law and, if found valid, shall exclude evidence of the protected activity.

3-24-12.3 If the court determines that a person convicted of the offense of stalking under this section owns or possesses a firearm which was used in the commission of the stalking offense, the court may order the firearm be summarily forfeited and disposed of in accordance with the policy of the Three Affiliated Tribes Law Enforcement Services.

- b A conviction for a third or subsequent offense of violation of a domestic violence protection order is punishable as a Felony offense.

3-24-14 Domestic Violence Protection Order

- 3-24-14.1 An action for a protection order is commenced by a verified application alleging the existence of domestic violence which may be brought in Three Affiliated Tribal Court by any person if the court determines that the relationship between that person and the alleged offender (respondent) is sufficient to warrant the issuance of a domestic violence protection order. An action may be brought under this section, regardless of whether a divorce action has been filed.
- 3-24-14.2 An application may be on a form provided by the court or in other form, but must at a minimum identify the respondent, allege that the applicant (petitioner) is in danger of abuse from the respondent and has been the victim of abuse committed by the respondent, and particularly describing the nature of the abuse and the dates of occurrence.
- 3-24-14.3 Upon receipt of the application, the court shall order a hearing to be held no later than fourteen (14) days from the date the application was filed unless extended pursuant to subsection 3-24-14.4 below.
- 3-24-14.4 Service shall be made upon the respondent not less than seven (7) days prior to the hearing. If service cannot be made, the court may set a new date. Proof of service shall be filed with the court after service is made and prior to the scheduled date of the hearing.
- 3-24-14.5 At any hearing regarding the issuance of a domestic violence protection order, every respondent has the right to be represented by an attorney at their own expense.
- 3-24-14.6 Upon the showing of actual or imminent domestic violence, the court may issue a domestic violence protection order after due notice and full hearing. The relief provided by the court may include any or all of the following:

 - b Prohibiting the respondent from being within a specified distance from the petitioner, the petitioner's children, or the petitioner's spouse or intimate partner;
 - c Restraining any party from threatening, molesting, injuring, or harassing any other person;
 - d Excluding and/or prohibiting the respondent from a specified household, from the residence of another person against whom the domestic violence is occurring or from a domestic violence care facility, where the exclusion is necessary to the physical or mental well-being of the petitioner or others;
 - e Prohibiting the respondent from entering the petitioner's residence, school, business, or place of employment, or the children's school or daycare;
 - f Awarding temporary custody and/or establishing temporary visitation rights and/or temporary child support with regard to children. The court may order that any such visitation may be supervised or otherwise restricted. In the event the court orders temporary child support, the court shall notify the Three Affiliated Tribes Child Support Enforcement Agency to assist in determining the amount of child support owed pursuant to the relevant guidelines of the Three Affiliated Tribes;
 - g Recommending or requiring counseling with a domestic violence program or other agency that provides such counseling services which the court deems appropriate. The court may request a report from the relevant designated agency within a time period established by the court;

The respondent shall surrender the firearm or other dangerous weapon to the Three Affiliated Tribes Chief of Police. If the firearm or other dangerous weapon is not surrendered, law enforcement may arrest the respondent pursuant to section 3-24-13 of this chapter and take possession of the firearm or other dangerous weapon. The respondent must be informed that a violation of this firearms possession may subject the respondent to federal prosecution under Title 18, U.S.C. § 922(g)(8); and
- j Any other order the court deems necessary or appropriate to ensure the safety of the petitioner, petitioner's children, or petitioner's spouse or intimate partner.

3-24-14.7 All protection orders issued by the Court shall be entered and maintained in the national database by law enforcement. Service of all protection orders shall be made upon the Respondent by law enforcement.

3-24-15 Temporary Ex Parte Protection Order

3-24-15.1 Where an application under section 3-24-14 alleges an immediate and present danger of domestic violence to the applicant (petitioner) based upon an allegation of a recent incident of domestic violence or threat of domestic violence, the court, upon finding by a preponderance of the evidence that a petitioner is in immediate danger of domestic violence, may grant an ex parte temporary protection order, pending a full hearing, granting such relief as the court deems proper.

3-24-15.2 An ex parte temporary protection order may include any relief within the court's authority to provide under subsection 3-24-14.6.

3-24-15.3 An ex parte temporary protection order shall remain in effect, at the court's discretion, for not more than thirty (30) days, unless otherwise terminated or amended by the court.

3-24-15.4 A full hearing as provided by section 3-24-14 shall be arranged not later than fourteen (14) days from the issuance of the temporary order. The respondent shall be served by law enforcement forthwith with a copy of the ex parte order along with a copy of the application and notice of the date set for hearing. If service cannot personally be made on the respondent within seven (7) days of issuance of an ex parte order, law enforcement shall mail a copy of the order, return receipt requested, to the last known address of the respondent. Proof of service shall be filed with the court.

3-24-15.5 The clerk of court shall transmit a copy of each temporary protection order, or extension, modification, or termination thereof, by the close of the business day in which the order was granted, to the law enforcement agency with jurisdiction over the residence of the petitioner or over the residence at which the actual domestic violence, which is the subject of the temporary protection order, has occurred, or is likely to occur if requested by the petitioner and approved by the court.

3-24-15.6 No filing fee shall be required for any individual petitioning for a temporary ex parte restraining order under this section.

- a Had jurisdiction over the parties and the matter; and
 - b Reasonable notice and opportunity to be heard was given to the person against whom the protection order is sought, sufficient to protect that person's due process rights to the extent required under U.S.C., Title 18, § 2265.
- 3-24-16.2 Ex parte foreign protection orders are not eligible for enforcement under this section unless notice and opportunity to be heard had been provided within the time required by the foreign jurisdiction's law, and in any event within a reasonable time after the protection order was issued, sufficient to protect that person's due process rights.
- 3-24-16.3 A foreign protection order issued by a state or tribal court against one who has petitioned, filed a complaint, (cross or counter petitioned) or otherwise filed a written pleading for protection against abuse by a spouse or intimate partner is not entitled to full faith and credit recognition if:
- a No cross or counter petition, complaint, or other written pleading was filed seeking such protection order; or
 - b A cross or counter petition has been filed and the foreign court did not make specific findings that each party was entitled to such an order.
- 3-24-16.4 Neither residence on the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation nor registration of the foreign protection order shall be required for enforcement of the protection order by local law enforcement, and the failure to register shall not be an impediment to its enforcement.
- 3-24-16.5 The following domestication procedure shall be available to protected persons who hold protection orders from a court of a foreign jurisdiction:
- a A protected person shall file a certified copy of the foreign protection order with the court. However, nothing in this section shall operate to preclude the enforcement of any foreign protection order determined by the law enforcement officer to be valid even if the protected person does not have a certified copy of the foreign protection order filed with the court.
 - b At the hearing to recognize the foreign protection order, the protected person must swear by affidavit, that to the best of the protected person's knowledge and belief, that the attached certified copy of the foreign protection order is currently in effect as written and has not been superseded by any other order and the respondent has been provided a copy of the protection order.
 - c After the court issues an order of recognition of the foreign protection order, the court shall provide the local law enforcement a copy of the certified copy of the foreign protection order and law enforcement shall enter the foreign protection order into the internal register, noting that it is a valid foreign protection order subject to enforcement in the Three Affiliated Tribes jurisdiction.
 - d The court shall not notify or require notification to the party against whom the foreign protection order has been issued that the foreign protection order has been registered or filed in the Three Affiliated Tribes jurisdiction unless requested to do so by the protected party.
 - e Neither the court nor the law enforcement agency shall make available publicly on the internet any information regarding the registration, filing of a petition for, or issuance of protection order, restraining order, or injunction in either the issuing jurisdiction or the enforcing jurisdiction, if such publication would be to publicly reveal the identity or location of the party protected under such order. The Three Affiliated Tribes Tribal Court and Law Enforcement Services may share court-generated and law enforcement-generated information contained in secure, governmental registries for protection order enforcement purposes.

- f For purposes of this section, the court shall have full civil jurisdiction to issue and enforce protection orders involving any person, including the authority to enforce any orders through civil contempt proceedings, to exclude violators from Indian land within the exterior boundaries of the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation, and to use other appropriate mechanisms, in matters arising anywhere within the jurisdiction of the Three Affiliated Tribes or otherwise within the full authority of the Three Affiliated Tribes.

3-24-16.6 Law enforcement officers shall enforce foreign protection orders as if they were entered by the Three Affiliated Tribes Tribal Court. Upon presentation of a foreign protection order by a protected person, a law enforcement officer shall assist in enforcement of all its terms, as written in the foreign protection order.

3-24-17 Mandatory Arrest

3-24-17.1 If a law enforcement officer has probable cause to believe a person has either committed an offense of domestic violence or violated a domestic violence protection order pursuant to this chapter, whether the offense or violation was committed within or outside the presence of the officer, the law enforcement officer shall arrest and take into custody the alleged offender. An arrest under this section should be made as soon as possible after probable cause has been formed in order to ensure the safety of the victim.

3-24-17.2 When a law enforcement officer receives a complaint of domestic violence from two (2) opposing persons that have assaulted each other, the officer shall at a minimum arrest the person believed to have been the primary aggressor. In making this determination, and in determining whether the non-primary aggressor should also be arrested, the officer shall make every reasonable effort to consider:

- a The comparative extent of the injuries inflicted;
- b If threats or intimidation tactics were used, including consideration of who made the threats creating fear of bodily injury;
- c The history of domestic abuse between the persons involved or prior complaints from the same residence, considering who made them and what was alleged;
- d The likelihood of future injury to each person; and
- e Whether one person was acting in self-defense.

3-24-17.3 A law enforcement officer shall always use professional methods. An officer shall not base an arrest decision solely on the request of a victim to do so or on the officer's perception of the willingness of a victim or witness to testify or otherwise participate in a judicial proceeding. When an officer has probable cause to make an arrest under this chapter, the officer shall make such an arrest regardless of the victim's contrary declarations, however, those declarations should be noted in the officer's report.

3-24-17.4 Whenever a law enforcement officer is called to the scene of a reported incident of domestic violence, or otherwise receives information that an incident of domestic violence has occurred, and either does not make an arrest or arrests more than one (1) person for domestic violence in

The protected party, law enforcement, and the defendant shall be provided a certified copy of any no-contact order issued under this section. A no-contact order may not be vacated without notice to the protected party and the tribal prosecutor with a hearing on the need to vacate the no-contact order.

3-24-21.1 To the greatest extent possible, pursuant to the Three Affiliated Tribes Tribal Code and the Tribal Court procedures, a victim of an offense charged under this chapter has the following rights:

- a To be treated with fairness, respect, and dignity, and to be free from intimidation, harassment, or abuse, throughout the criminal justice process;
- b To be informed when the accused or convicted person is released from custody or has escaped;
- c To be present at and to be informed of all criminal proceedings where the defendant has the right to be present;
- d To be heard at any proceeding involving a post-arrest release decision, negotiated plea bargaining agreement, or sentencing;

- e To refuse a pretrial interview or deposition request by the defendant, the defendant's attorney, or any other person acting on behalf of the defendant;
- f To confer with the prosecution, upon request, before or after the charge against the defendant is filed, before trial or before any disposition of the case and to be informed of the disposition;
- g To read police reports related to the crime involving the victim when they are available;
- h To receive prompt restitution from the person or persons convicted of the criminal conduct that caused the victim's loss or injury;
- i To be heard, upon request, at any proceeding when any post-conviction release from confinement is being considered;

- k To have rules of criminal procedure and rules of evidence that protect victims' rights and that are subject to Tribal Business Council amendment; and
- l To be informed of victims' rights.
- m The rights that are established by and enumerated in this chapter arise on the arrest or formal charging of the person or persons who is alleged to be responsible for a criminal offense against a victim. The rights and duties continue to be enforceable pursuant to these charges, all post-conviction release and relief proceedings, and the discharge of all criminal proceedings relating to restitution. If a defendant is ordered to pay restitution to a victim, the rights and duties continue to be enforceable until restitution is paid or a criminal restitution is ordered or entered in favor of the victim.
- n If a defendant's conviction is reversed and the case is returned to the trial court for further proceedings, the victim has the same rights that were applicable to the criminal proceedings that led to the appeal or other post-conviction relief proceedings.
- o After the final termination of a criminal prosecution by dismissal with prejudice or acquittal, a person who has received notice and the right to be present and heard pursuant to the victims' rights stated in this chapter is no longer entitled to such rights.
- p It is at the victim's discretion to exercise his/her rights to be present and heard at the court proceedings, and the absence of the victim does not preclude the court from proceeding with the hearing or trial.
- q A victim's right to be heard may be exercised, at the victim's discretion, through an oral statement or submission of a written statement.
- r Upon the request of the victim and after consultation with the prosecutor, law enforcement shall return to the victim any property belonging to the victim that was taken during the course of the investigation or shall inform the victim of the reasons why the property will not be returned. Law enforcement shall make reasonable efforts to return the property to the victim as soon as possible. If the victim's property has been admitted as evidence during a trial or hearing, the court may order its release to the victim if a photograph can be substituted. If evidence is released pursuant to this subsection, the defendant or the defendant's attorney or investigator may inspect and independently photograph the evidence before it is released.
- s A victim advocate shall not disclose as a witness or otherwise disclose any communication, except compensation or restitution information, between himself and the victim, unless the victim consents in writing to the disclosure.
- t Communication between a victim and victim advocate is not privileged if the victim advocate knows that the victim will give or has given perjured testimony or if the communication contains exculpatory material. The victim advocate must disclose such information to the prosecutor.

- u Before, during and immediately after any court proceedings, the court shall provide appropriate safeguards to ensure the safety and comfort of the victim and all parties involved.
- v Unless the victim consents, the victim shall not be compelled to submit to a pre-trial interview that is conducted by the defendant, the defendant's attorney, or an agent of the defendant.
 - (i) The defendant, the defendant's attorney or an agent of the defendant shall only initiate contact with the victim through the prosecutor's office. The prosecutor's office shall promptly inform the victim of the defendant's request for an interview and shall advise the victim of the victim's right to refuse the interview.
 - (ii) The victim has the right to terminate the interview at any time and to refuse to answer questions during the interview. The prosecutor has standing, at the request of the victim, to protect the victim from harassment, intimidation or abuse and may seek any appropriate protective court order.
 - (iii) If the defendant or the defendant's attorney comments at trial on the victim's refusal to be interviewed, the court shall instruct the jury that the victim has the right to refuse an interview.
- w The victim has the right at any court proceeding to not testify regarding the victim's addresses, telephone numbers, place of employment or other locating information unless the victim consents or the court orders disclosure after a finding that a compelling need for the information exists. Any court proceeding where such information might be disclosed shall be in chambers.

3-25 Drug Code of the Three Affiliated Tribes

3-25-1 General Provisions – Title

This code shall be entitled as “Mandan, Hidatsa, and Arikara Nation Anti-Drug Code” and may be referred to as the Drug Code of the Three Affiliated Tribes.

3-25.1.1 Legislative Findings/Purpose

The Tribal Business Council of the Three Affiliated Tribes of the Mandan, Hidatsa, and Arikara Nation hereby finds that methamphetamine and other illicit drugs use on the Fort Berthold Indian Reservation has become an increasing and alarming problem. The use distribution, sale, and manufacturing of methamphetamine and other illicit drugs on the Reservation has resulted in a wide range of serious social issues for the Tribes including drug addiction, violence, child endangerment and neglect, elder abuse, criminal activity and physical and mental illness. These societal issues ultimately lead to the destruction of our spiritual and cultural values and heritage. As the governing body of the Tribes, the Tribal Business Council has a duty and the authority to provide for the welfare of the members of the Tribes and to implement methods of combating the methamphetamine and illicit drug problem on the Reservation. The Tribal Business Council also finds that the Tribes current drug laws are inadequate to address these problems and new criminal and civil code provisions need to be adopted in response thereto.

This Code is intended to provide laws to prevent illegal drug trafficking of methamphetamine and other illicit drugs on the Reservation by providing stringent penalties for the use, distribution, and manufacture of methamphetamine and other illicit drugs by providing other civil sanctions including banishment from the Reservation as a form of punishment for violations of this Code. This Code is also intended to meet a larger purpose of protecting the Mandan, Hidatsa, and Arikara Nation and our children, families, and elders by providing safe communities free from illicit drug manufacturing and dealing, ensuring a stable and bright future for our children, preserving our cultural heritage and values, and overall providing safe and healthy communities for families and our future generations. Finally, this Code is intended to promote drug free communities and lifestyles and to adopt a zero tolerance for illicit drug use on the Reservation.

3-25.1.2 Authority

This Code is adopted by the Tribal Business Council of the Three Affiliated Tribes under the authority granted by Article VI, Section 3 of the Constitution of the Three Affiliated Tribes pursuant to the Tribes’ inherent sovereign authority guaranteed by Treaty to govern its territory and the activities of individuals located thereon.

3-25.1.3 Original Jurisdiction

The Tribal Courts of the Three Affiliated Tribes shall have original jurisdiction over all proceedings involving drugs and drug abuse as contained in this code.

3-25.1.4 Prior Inconsistent Law, Ordinances, Statutes, Repealed

Any and all laws, ordinances, statutes, rules, or resolutions of the Three Affiliated Tribes Tribal Business Council which conflict in any manner with the provisions of this code are hereby repealed to the extent that they are inconsistent with or conflict with, or contrary to the spirit and/or purpose of this code. All prior ordinances, laws, statutes, rules, or resolutions of the Tribal Business Council dealing with the same subject matter as this code are repealed as of the date of this enactment of this code.

Upon the trial of any civil or criminal action or proceeding arising out of acts alleged to have been committed by any person while driving or in actual control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of intoxicating liquor, evidence of the amount of alcohol in the person's blood at the time of the act alleged as shown by a chemical analysis of his blood, breath, saliva, or urine is admissible. For the purpose of this section:

- a A person having, at that time, seven-hundredths (0.07) of one percent (1%) or less by weight of alcohol in his blood is presumed not to be under the influence of intoxicating liquor.
- b Evidence that there was at one time more than seven-hundredths (0.07) of one percent (1%) and less than eight one-hundredths (0.08) of one percent (1%) by weight of alcohol in the person's blood is relevant evidence, but it is not to be given prime facie effect in indicating whether the person was under the influence of intoxicating liquor.
- c A person having, at that time, eight one-hundredths (0.08) of one percent (1%) or more by weight of alcohol in his blood shall be presumed to be under the influence of intoxicating liquor.
- d Percent by weight of alcohol in the blood or blood alcohol concentration is based upon grams of alcohol per one hundred (100) cubic centimeters of blood or grams of alcohol per two hundred ten (210) liters of alveolar air or grams of alcohol per sixty-seven (67) cubic centimeters of urine.
- e The results of the chemical analysis must be received in evidence, when it is shown that the sample was properly obtained, and the test was fairly administered, and if the test is shown to have been performed according to methods and with devices approved in accordance with industry standards, and administered by an individual possessing a certificate of qualification to administer the test, provided that the test of a person's blood, breath, urine, or other bodily substance and the result thereof is further shown to have been performed according to the methods or with devices approved by the Tribe. Upon approval of the methods of devices or chemical analysis, or both, and techniques required to perform such a test and the persons qualified to administer them, the Tribal public safety administrator shall prepare and file a written record of such approval with the clerk of the Tribal court and shall include:
 - (i) A quarterly register of the specific testing devices currently approved including serial number, location, and the date and results of the last inspection.
 - (ii) A quarterly register of currently qualified and certified operators of said devices stating the certification and expiration dates.
 - (iii) The operational check list and forms prescribing the methods and techniques in accordance with industry standards in using such devices during the administration of the tests.
 - (iv) Copies of the above records certified by the clerk of the Tribal court shall be admitted as prima facie evidence of the matters stated herein.
- f A certified copy of the analytical report of a blood analysis signed by a licensed toxicologist shall be accepted as prima facie evidence of the results of such a chemical analysis performed herein.
- g Notwithstanding any statute or rule to the contrary, the defendant in any criminal proceeding may subpoena, without cost to the defendant, the person who conducted the chemical analysis, referred to in this section, to testify at the trial on the issue of the amount of alcohol, drugs, or a combination thereof in the defendant's blood, breath, saliva, or urine at the time of the alleged act. If the court cannot compulsorily compel the individual who conducted the chemical analysis to testify, the results of the analysis shall be inadmissible, but the Tribal prosecutor may use, and the court may consider, other evidence to establish the burden of proof requirements.
- h A signed statement from the physician, qualified technician, chemist, nurse, or physician's assistant drawing the blood sample for testing as set forth in subsection (e) is prima facie evidence that the blood sample was properly drawn and no further foundation for the admission of such evidence may be required.

The Tribal judge or magistrate judge may deny issuing the person a temporary driving privilege for a period of six (6) months after the date of the alleged violation. Such a revocation shall not occur until a hearing before the Tribal judge or magistrate judge has been provided which accords all necessary due process notices and opportunities to be heard and present evidence.
